

Six-Day Battle for 'Copter

Fierce Fighting Over Reds' 'Citadel'

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. infantrymen killed 76 North Vietnamese troops in two battles near Communist stronghold known as "The Citadel" northwest of Saigon, military spokesmen said today. They exchanged rocket grenades from as close as 200 yards apart.

Military sources said the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong in the area 30 miles northwest of Saigon were about ready for another drive in their so-called autumn campaign and would open a terror campaign in Saigon.

The new drives were expected before the Sept. 2 anniversary of North Vietnam's declaration of independence from France in 1945, the sources said.

The two battles near "The Citadel" lasted all day Sunday. American troops were aided by jet fighter bombers and artillery.

Military spokesmen said the intense fighting in the rice paddies and woodlands between Saigon and the Cambodian border included several hours of comparatively close exchanges of rocket grenades and howitzer rounds, some as close as 200 yards.

In the Mekong Delta, the senior U.S. officer there said today the North Vietnamese army for the first time in the war has moved a regular army unit into the delta.

Maj. Gen. Roderick Wetherill, commander of the Delta Military Assistance Command, identified the unit as the 18B Regiment of the 1st North Vietnamese Division.

Near Da Nang, Viet Cong commandos cut through the barbed wire around a U.S. Marine base and planted the Communist flag inside the American camp before the defenders drove them off.

Far to the south near Saigon, U.S. troops killed 76 Communist troops in a seven-hour battle involving helicopters, jets and artillery.

American infantrymen Sunday pushed the last 1,000 yards to the wreckage of a crashed U.S. helicopter and found the bodies of eight Americans, including Associated Press photographer Oliver Noonan, 29, of Norwell, Mass.

The American troops had fought for six days to reach the helicopter, shot down last Monday.

It was the second Viet Cong attack on the Marine base at the outskirts of Da Nang in seven months. As the 10-man commando squad cut the barbed wire and charged, tossing explosive charges in bags, the Marines called in U.S. fighter bombers from Da Nang airbase.

The Viet Cong managed to plant their own flag beside a U.S. bunker before they were driven out of the enclosure by gunfire. One Marine was killed and three wounded in the 90 minutes of fighting. Five Viet Cong were killed and two captured.

Communist troops ambushed a U.S. 4th Infantry Division unit Sunday on a bridge on Highway 19 near An Khe 260 miles northeast of Saigon. The Communist force of 20 men fired small arms and rocket-propelled grenades and the Americans fought back with heavy machine guns mounted on armored personnel carriers and called in artillery strikes.

Two Americans were killed and four wounded. The Communist losses were undetermined.

Another 330 men of the Mobile Riverine Force which has operated in the Mekong Delta left Vietnam today as part of a plan to withdraw 25,000 men from the war zone by the end of this month.

The 15th Engineer Battalion of the 9th Infantry commanded by Lt. Col. Charles A. Burghardt of Greenfield, Ill., left Sunday.

Virginia's Flags at Half Mast for the Dead

LOVINGSTON, Va. (UPI)—Exhausted rescue workers dug into collapsed mountainsides and mud-covered highways today searching for more bodies trapped in Virginia's worst flood disaster in more than a century.

With the official toll standing at 75 known dead and 89 missing, there were predictions Nelson County, hardest hit, eventually would count "at least" 150 casualties.

Meanwhile, flags flew at half staff across the commonwealth again today in Gov. Mills E. Godwin's suggested "tribute" to those who lost their lives in a 72-hour nightmare triggered by heavy rains accompanying the death throes of Hurricane Camille.

The dying storm dumped as much as 10 inches of rain on some Central and Western Virginia localities Tuesday night and early Wednesday, collapsing mountainsides and pushing the James River and its tributaries to almost their highest levels in history.

The Rev. Vernon Lewis, a Baptist minister acting as information officer for the office of Civil Defense here said there were 51 known dead in Nelson County alone and 89 missing. Additionally, recently restored telephone service has brought inquiries from other localities about persons known to be passing through the area when "the mountains gave way."

"Many of the bodies will never be found," said J. Bernard McDearmon, state Civil Defense public relations coordinator.

McDearmon said it appeared most of the victims were trapped by landslides and the torrents of rain as floodwaters cascaded through the valleys en route to the James and its branches, then onward to the sea.

President Nixon gets first hand report from Vice-President Agnew on tragic destruction wrought by Hurricane Camille. Story Page 4.

The violent floodwaters washed away villages, swept away bridges and ruined highways on their path to the sea. One rescue crew spent most of Sunday trying to pull a huge tractor-trailer from the receding Tye River near here.

Near Rockfish River, about seven miles north of here, nearly 1,000 feet of U.S. 29 vanished in the flood.

One family of about 22 brothers, sisters, cousins, uncles and aunts—the Huffmans of "Huffman's Hollow" near Davis Creek—was missing and presumed dead. Another large family which lived nearby—the Perrys—also was unaccounted for.

At Gulfport, Mississippi, more than 160 fully equipped house trailers were brought in by the federal government Sunday to provide shelter for some of the thousands of homeless families on the hurricane-shattered Gulf Coast.

Many of the survivors of Camille's devastating winds and floodwaters gathered amid the ruins in memorial services for the dead.

"We meet here with mixed emotion" said Father Francis Patrick O'Malley beside the rubble of St. Thomas Parish Church. "Primarily, we are sorrowful for those who did not survive the hurricane, but also in our hearts there is much joy because we are alive."

The Rev. James B. Bell held services in an educational building near the badly damaged St. Peter's-by-the-Sea Episcopal Church. "We are here not only because it's the Lord's Day, but also to offer ourselves to each other—to share our lives with each other and share our resources we have left," he said.

Cleanup operations continued. The Red Cross said it had counted 139 dead, 29 still unidentified. It said a final count showed 5,506 homes destroyed, 12,409 severely damaged and 24,207 with minor damages. About 5,000 persons still were in refugee centers, the Red Cross said.

In Washington the Red Cross said it needs $15 million in emergency funds to feed and house refugees. The organization said "at least 20,000 families will need Red Cross help with their recovery."

In Jackson, more than $1 million in relief funds were raised in a telethon featuring Bob Hope and a number of other entertainers. President Nixon and the White House staff contributed $1,000. Nixon called Hope during the show and told him:

"It is through this type of action, where people get together and volunteer their help, that we can conquer difficulty. With this kind of heart, America is going to do all right in the years ahead."

Hurricane Debbie, which followed Camille as the season's fourth tropical storm, apparently headed toward death in the open Atlantic without ever having touched land. The storm was well off Newfoundland.

'A' Unit Back To War

SONG CHANG VALLEY, Vietnam (AP) — "I am sorry, sir, but my men refused to go—we cannot move out," Lt. Eugene Shurtz Jr. reported to his battalion commander over a crackling field telephone.

"A" Company of the 196th Light Infantry Brigade's battle-worn 3rd Battalion had been ordered at dawn Sunday to move once more down the jungle rocky slope of Nui Lon Mountain into a deadly labyrinth of North Vietnamese bunkers and trench lines.

For five days they had obeyed orders to make this push, each time they had been thrown back by the invisible enemy who waited through the rain of bombs and artillery shells for the Americans to come close, then picked them off with deadly crossfire.

The battalion commander, Lt. Col. Robert C. Bacon, had been waiting impatiently for A Company to move out. Bacon had taken over the battalion after Lt. Eli P. Howard was killed in a helicopter crash with Associated Press photographer Oliver Noonan and six other men. Ever since the crash Tuesday, (Continued on Page 12 Col. 3)

Arab foreign ministers gathered in Cairo today as calls for a holy war against Israel mounted.

Brought together by the fire in the Al Ahsah Mosque in Jerusalem, the ministers were expected to discuss Jordan's proposal for a summit meeting. And a summit meeting could result in the Arabs abandoning all efforts toward a peaceful settlement with Israel.

Egypt, Lebanon and Saudi Arabia already have given their approval to a summit meeting. There were these other developments in the Middle East:

—Israeli jets struck at guerrilla bases in Jordan 19 miles north of Amman today after a mine killed two Israeli soldiers and wounded two near the Jordan River. Five Arab guerrillas were reported killed in a clash in the Golan Heights, and seven Israeli border police were reported wounded in an ambush near the Lebanese border. On the Suez Canal front, an Israeli soldier was killed and another wounded in day-long artillery and small arms exchanges Sunday.

—Fifteen Iraqis were executed in Baghdad at dawn today after being convicted of spying for Israel and the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency. Nine of the men including two Jews, were civilians and were hanged. The rest, a police commissioner and five soldiers, were shot. Thirty-six Iraqis were executed on the same charges earlier this year, and nine of them were identified as Jews.

—Israel police continued to question the Australian being held in connection with the fire at Al Ahsah.

—Police in Izmir, Turkey, announced that a Jordanian student was killed and another injured when a homemade time bomb they intended to place at the Israeli pavilion of the Izmir International Fair exploded accidentally late Saturday night.

Observers in Amman predicted that at the foreign ministers' meeting such Arab oil states as Saudi Arabia, Kuwait, Libya and the Persian Gulf emirates would increase their financial support to Jordan and the Palestine resistance movement.

The new level of anti-Israeli feeling in the Arab world is the result of the fire last week in Al Ahsah Mosque in Old Jerusalem, Islam's third most sacred shrine.

Arab masses have poured out their passions in huge demonstrations, and Saudi Arabia, Syria, Iraq and Jordan have called for a jihad, or holy war, to avenge the fire.

The arrest of the Australian has gone virtually unnoticed. The Arabs say it is an Israeli attempt to avoid responsibility.

Yasser Arafat, leader of the Palestine guerrillas, is reported to have called a meeting of his top lieutenants to plan revenge.

Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser in a message to his troops over the weekend said the force is the only answer in the conflict with Israel.

Political observers said the meeting displayed more Arab unity than in years.

In Jerusalem, Israel opened its investigation of the fire and highly placed political sources said the government would try to head off the Australian suspect in the fire under security arrangements as strict as the trial of Adolf Eichmann.

The sources said the trial of Michael Dennis William Rohen, 28, an Australian sheep shearer accused of starting the fire Thursday will be planned in an effort to ensure the kind of world press coverage given the trial of Eichmann, who planned the execution of Jews under Adolf Hitler in World War II.

Aftermath of the Raid: Several Pay Drug Fines

By WALTER S. CLARK

LAKE KATRINE

Several persons numbered among the 24 nabbed by authorities during the coordinated raid attack against drug traffic in the Woodstock and Phoenixia areas on Saturday, pleaded guilty to misdemeanor charges and paid fines before Ulster Town Justice Arthur A. Reilly.

The defendants were charged with criminal possession or sale of dangerous drugs or possession of implements capable of administering drugs.

The roundup climaxed a four-month investigation directed by State Police officials and the staff of Dist. Atty. Joseph P. Torracca.

Three persons taken into custody, who were not previously reported, were: Marc Alan Marshall, 23, of 33 Lower Byrdcliffe Road; William Oscar McCord, 25, of Box 593, both of Woodstock, and Alfred Eugene Robinson, 26, of 755 Ohayo Mt. Road, Hurley. Marshall and McCord were charged with sale of dangerous drugs—marijuana—and Robinson was cited for possession of dangerous drugs and narcotics implements.

In an unrelated case, BCI Investigator J. P. Moore and Troopers J. C. Mikes and G. R. Van Allen arrested Casper Joseph Knight, 22, of Shandaken at 4:30 a.m. Sunday. He was charged with possessing marijuana, a fourth degree misdemeanor. Arraigned before Shandaken Town Justice Edwin L. France, Knight pleaded guilty and was fined $10. He also pleaded guilty to possessing a narcotics implement and received an unconditional discharge with no specific penalty being imposed on that count.

County Investigator Thomas Mayone of Torracca's staff is prepared to have several of the defendants who were named in sealed indictments taken before County Judge Raymond J. Mino. The other cases will be disposed of before Ulster Town Justice Arthur A. Reilly or other area magistrates.

A State Police official described one defendant, Herbert Jerry Morrison, 47, of Phoenixia, as "a big dealer" in narcotics. He was held in $5,000 bail.

Police immediately took McKibbin into custody and booked him for manslaughter, first degree, pending further investigation. Arraigned before City Judge Thomas Lynch, McKibbin was committed to the county jail.

According to authorities, the accused man had been employed as a guard at Matthew State Hospital for Criminally Insane, but more recently he was a guard at Green Haven State Prison in Stormville. He was well known in the city and for some time he had been associated with the Beacon Recreation Commission, it was reported.

ACQUITTED — Accompanied by his wife, Capt. John P. Stevenson, skipper of the Australian carrier Melbourne which sliced in half the U. S. destroyer Frank E. Evans on June 3, leaves court today in Sydney, Australia, after he was acquitted of charges that he was partly responsible for the accident which claimed 74 American lives. (UPI CABLEPHOTO).

China Sea Crash — Acquittal

SYDNEY, Australia (UPI)—An Australian military court today acquitted the skipper of the aircraft carrier Melbourne of charges he was partly to blame for the June 3 collision with the U.S. destroyer Frank E. Evans that killed 74 American sailors.

The judge advocate general of the court ordered a directed verdict of "not guilty and honorably acquitted" for Capt. John P. Stevenson.

One of the charges was that Stevenson failed to give the Evans proper directions when a collision appeared imminent. The other was he failed to take necessary measures to avoid a collision.

Stevenson, 47, was given back the ceremonial sword he surrendered to the court when it opened sessions Wednesday. He walked from the court, declining comment.

The slender, sandy-haired officer who joined the navy when he was 13, had insisted throughout the six week joint Australian-U.S. investigation of the collision the American ship was fully to blame.

The carrier cut the Evans in two during a Southeast Asian Treaty Organization (SEATO) operation in the South China Sea.

Although the joint investigation held at Subic Bay Naval Base near Manila said "a share of the responsibility" rested with the Melbourne, Stevenson was acquitted without offering any defense.

The skipper of the Evans, Cmdr. Albert S. McLemore, 40, of Vallejo, Calif., and the two officers who were on the bridge at the time, Lt. (j.g.) Ronald C.

Kopechne Attorney:

No Basis for Autopsy

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (UPI)—There is neither a reason nor a legal basis for an autopsy on the woman killed when Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's car plunged into a tidal pond, say her family's attorneys.

That is the thrust of a legal argument prepared for presentation here today by lawyers for the family of Mary Jo Kopechne, Luzerne County Court Judge Bernard Brominski will hear the petition.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kopechne are opposing the autopsy requested by Dist. Atty. Edmund S. Dinis of the Southern District of Massachusetts.

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—The Apollo 11 moon rocks, scientists have found to their surprise and excitement, date back much farther than expected—"billions of years,"—and perhaps to the birth of the solar system.

This discovery, announced Sunday, indicates the moon is more ancient and that its surface features developed more slowly than most scientists had expected.

The moon rocks are at least as old as the most ancient rocks found in the earth's crust, which date back about 3.3 billion years, said Dr. Wilmut N. Hess, chief scientist at the Houston Space Center.

They might be as old as the solar system itself, which scientists believe was formed some 4.5 billion years ago. And for "hundreds of millions of years," Hess said, they have rested within a few inches of the lunar surface or on the surface.

Hess said the dating of the lunar rocks was done by four scientists working in the Houston laboratory where the 54 pounds of moon rock and dirt, scooped from the surface of Tranquility Base July 20 by Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin E. "Buzz" Aldrin, are locked in quarantine.

"These age estimates are important in understanding the origin of the moon and the solar system," Hess said.

During the time they were on or near the moon's surface, the rocks underwent a constant bombardment of atoms of so-called "rare gases" that boil off the surface of the sun and stream through space. Many of these solar particles were trapped in the rocks.

Dr. S. Oliver Schaeffer and John Funkhouser, both of State University of New York; Dr. Joseph Zahner of the Max Planck Institute, Heidelberg, Germany; and Dr. Donald Bogard of the Space Center staff measured these trapped atoms to determine the age of relatively undisturbed in the lunar material. Scientists said the new finding does not rule out or strongly support any of the theories about how the moon was formed. It does indicate, they said, that the moon has remained unchanged since it and the earth were formed. Because of this, they said, the moon may contain clues about its own work, formation and that of the earth which can be equalled on the earth, where many geological clues have been obliterated or studies of the lunar rock.

Natives of Alaska Await Settlement

WASHINGTON (AP)—Uncle Sam shelled out $7.2 million more than a century ago to purchase Alaska, but it apparently will be next year before natives find out what they get from the mammoth real estate transaction.

Annual installments totaling up to $500 million are being considered by Congress to settle the claims of 55,000 Alaska Eskimos, Aleuts and Indians. Their ancestors lived in what is now the 49th state for centuries before the first white man arrived.

Sentiments voiced by Congress at hearings held by House and Senate interior committees this summer indicate action will not be completed until next year on a plan to pay the natives for the more than 500,000 square miles of real estate which the United States bought from Russia in 1867.

The chairman of the House Interior Committee, Rep. Wayne N. Aspinall, D-Colo., says his group will visit Alaska to inspect native villages and mineral-rich areas before deciding among the various compensation proposals. The trip may be in mid-October.

The Senate Interior Committee has held hearings in Alaska and may act on the issue this year.

The Interior Department has clamped a freeze on release of federal lands in Alaska pending settlement of the claims.

The freeze is preventing the selection of certain federal lands by the Alaska state government as authorized by its statehood law, as well as threatening to hinder oil development, the committees were told.

Three proposed settlements are before the committees:

—The Federal Field Committee for Development Planning in Alaska proposes payment of $100 million in cash, land grants totaling 4 to 7 million acres and mineral and other royalties up to $1 billion over a 10-year period.

—Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel, a former Alaska governor, suggests payments of $500 million over 20 years and land grants totaling about 15 million acres.

—The Alaska Federation of Natives, claiming to represent a majority of the 55,000 natives in the state, is asking $500 million in 9 years, 40 million acres and an overriding royalty of two percent of the revenues from all Alaska land outside the granted areas.

The law which goes into effect Sept. 1 will alleviate having to house those arrested anywhere from one to 10 or more days until the matter can be brought before Family Court. It also allows those arrested for non-support to earn money rather than languish in jail awaiting court. (Freeman photo by Kruh).

Piper Crashes in Marlboro

A Close Brush With Death

MARLBORO brush on a farm about one mile east of Route 9W in this township. Two men had a close brush with death at 5:30 p. m. Saturday when the 28-year-old Piper Cub plane in which they were flying over Southern Ulster County crashed in heavy brush. The pilot, 43-year-old Bruno Ronkese of Purdy Avenue, Marlboro, suffered a fractured nose and other injuries. Ronkese also owned the aircraft. Anthony Russo, 47, of Route 9W, sustained lacerations and a possible fracture of the spine. They were taken to Vassar Hospital by Alamo Ambulance. Troopers reported the two men left a private field near here Saturday afternoon and flew to Kobolt Airfield in Wallkill. They returned to the Marlboro area when they encountered engine trouble and the motor failed. The pilot attempted to reach the Joseph DeVecchio's property to land in a field, but missed and the craft came down in a grove of sumac and wild cherry trees about one mile north of Old Post Road. A private jeep went through dense underbrush to the crash scene and removed the injured men to a waiting ambulance on the highway. Troopers said the plane was demolished.

Emerick for Supervisor

Saugerties GOPers Select

SAUGERTIES Republicans nominated a slate of candidates headed by Horace Emerick for supervisor at a caucus Saturday night at St. Mary's School Hall. Emerick's name was placed in nomination by County Legislator G. Freeman Lasher who said he felt Emerick was a capable individual of mature judgment, who as a retired government employee could devote his full time to the duties of town supervisor.

One Contest

One contest took place at the caucus at which town chairman Donald R. McCaig presided. It was for the post of councilman. Francis "Sonny" Myers, who was nominated by Councilman Bernard Rinaldi was victorious over Herbert Hommel, who withdrew his name after a canvass of delegates. Hommel was nominated by Foster Finger.

Town Clerk Marion Newkirk was unanimously nominated for reelection as was tax collector William A. Woestendick and Councilman Francis Hallion and Town Justice Calvin Cody.

Charles Bach Jr. was nominated for the position of town highway superintendent to succeed William Brown who does not seek reelection.

Louis P. Francello, Robert A. Snyder and Donald R. McCaig were named to the committee on vacancies.

Emerick, in accepting the nomination to head the ticket, thanked the delegates for their confidence. He said he would execute the duties of the office with dignity and in an orderly business-like manner. Emerick received a standing ovation from the delegates and many spectators present.

Many of the delegates, among whom were six women, were newcomers to active participation in the Republican Parties Affairs in Saugerties. It was reported that enthusiasm and party unity was much in evidence at the convention. It was recognized by County Chairman Albert Spada who predicted a clean sweep by the GOP.

It was also noted that "from the number of new faces to appear on the Republican ticket in 1969, it is evident that the GOP Party is entering a new era which will benefit local politics."

Bach was nominated for the highway post by Henry A. Lamourée and seconded by Rinaldi. Cody was nominated by Joseph W. Benjamin and Delegate Michael Catalinotto made the nominations for the vacancy committee.

Doctor O.K.'s This Hemorrhoid Treatment For N.J. Couple's Son

Treatment Shrinks Piles, Relieves Pain In Most Cases

Wharton, N.J. Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Jeffers report: "Our son suffered from hemorrhoids. I asked the doctor about Preparation H and he gave us the O.K. Our son is now fine, thanks to Preparation H!"

(Note: Doctors have proved in most cases—Preparation H actually shrinks inflamed hemorrhoids. In case after case, the sufferer first notices prompt relief from pain, burning and itching. Then swelling is gently reduced. There's no other formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids like doctor-tested Preparation H. It also lubricates to make bowel movements more comfortable, soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.)

Camille Report to President

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI)—President Nixon hears a first hand report today from Vice President Spiro T. Agnew on the tragic destruction wrought by Hurricane Camille. Agnew and Housing Secretary George Romney flew by helicopter along the Gulf Coast Wednesday at Nixon's request to survey the damage. The President revealed in a public telephone call to come-dian Bob Hope in Jackson, Miss., that Agnew and Romney already had reported that they regard "this terrible disaster as probably the worst natural disaster in this century."

White House pitched in $1,000. "True American Spirit" In hearing from Hope that money was pouring in, Nixon said he was "very proud to be an American and this is really the true American spirit. It comes from the heart."

After the meeting, the council will take a side trip to look over a "new town" housing and shopping development on the famous Irvine Ranch Tract in Orange County near here.

Nixon's meeting with Agnew starts the ball rolling on a heavy week of facing up to pressing domestic problems. He had a session scheduled with his Cabinet-level Urban Affairs Council.

Summons New Council The President summoned the newly formed Environmental Quality Council to confer with him Tuesday on the problems of pollution; auto fumes and smog.

White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the "response" to Nixon's three-part "new federalism" scheme to wipe out poverty was high on the agenda.

He appeared to have stiffened his stand on the Vietnam War with a decision to delay a further American troop pullout. The tougher position became clear when the White House announced Saturday the President had put off plans for another setback in fighting men because of the recent upsurge in enemy attacks.

Attend Convention Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fox of Olivebridge representing the Eastern AI Co-op Inc. were among more than 400 livestock men and representatives from artificial breeding business from 30 states and Canada attending the 22nd annual convention of the National Association of Animal Breeders at Madison, Wisc. recently.

Part of the delaying tactic was to put pressure on Hanoi to make concessions at the Paris talks and to scale down the fighting. He also wants to hold off until the South Vietnamese forces can take the major defense role.

OVATION BRINGS GLEAM — President Richard Nixon gleams as he gets a standing ovation upon his arrival at the Los Angeles Coliseum to watch the Los Angeles Rams play the Kansas City Chiefs in a pre-season exhibition game. The President motored to the Coliseum after eating dinner at Chasen's Restaurant, one of the most exclusive west end restaurants in Los Angeles. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

UCCC Sets Registration for Sept. 2 and 3

STONE RIDGE, Ulster County Community College will hold registration for its Fall Semester on Tuesday, Sept. 2, and Wednesday, Sept. 3, the earliest it has ever been held, President George B. Erbstein announced today.

"The reason we're holding registration so early this fall is because it is necessary to finish the semester before Christmas in order to conduct an Intercession during the month of January," President Erbstein said. "The Intercession will be a new educational venture at the College, and it should prove highly beneficial to our students."

Full-time students for the Fall Semester will register from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m. on Sept. 2 and 3 at the College's Stone Ridge campus.

President Erbstein said

persons interested in becoming full-time students who have not already applied should contact the director of admissions at the College.

Registration for part-time students will be held at the Stone Ridge campus from 6 to 9 o'clock the nights of Sept. 2 and 3. Counselors will be available to help students select courses that will best meet their needs. Brochures listing the late afternoon and evening courses being offered at the College's Stone Ridge Campus and at extension centers in Kingston, Saugerties, Woodstock and Ellenville can be obtained by calling the office of Continuing Education at the College.

Classes will begin on Thursday, Sept. 4, and the last day of classes will be on Dec. 17. Final examinations will be held before Christmas vacation.

The Intercession will be held in the month of January, with the Spring Semester scheduled to start on Feb. 2.

President Erbstein said the Intercession will enable interested students to accelerate their college program or to lighten the number of courses they will have to take in a regular semester. It also will provide for enrichment in areas regular sessions. In addition, in which they have had not possible for students in the Intercession will enable academic difficulty.

Two faculty members at Ulster County Community College presented papers at the annual meetings of societies of the American Institute of Biological Sciences at the University of Vermont Aug. 17-22.

The two are Associate Professor Richard B. Glazer, chairman of the Division of Biological and Health Sciences, and Robert A. Sena, a biology instructor. Sena, a resident of Rosendale, read a paper entitled, "The Ability of Thymocytes to Produce Antibody: Preliminary Results". It dealt with work on the effect of interspecies antibody production in animals.

Glazer, a resident of Tillsen, presented three papers at the conference. One paper, based on original research, is entitled, "The Effect of Interspecies Antibody Production in Animals". It dealt with work on the effect of interspecies antibody production in animals.

Survey Is a New Course

STONE RIDGE, Ulster County Community College will begin offering surveying courses in the evening and on Saturdays starting this September, James R. Hadley, chairman of the College's Division of Engineering Technologies, announced today.

The first surveying course, plane surveying, will meet twice a week in the fall semester. It will meet from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Thursdays and from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturdays at the Stone Ridge campus. The class will be Sept. 4.

Interested persons can register for the course the nights of Sept. 2 and 3 at the college's Stone Ridge campus. Hadley said the college tentatively plans to offer topographic surveying in the Spring, 1970, Semester, and curves and earthwork in the Fall, 1970, Semester. Hadley said persons who pass these surveying courses will be prepared to take the New York State Land Surveyors Examination which is required for licensing in New York State.

Assembly Line Housing

To meet the goals established by the Housing Act of 1968, America has to build some 2.6 million units a year, both houses and apartments. The construction forecast for this year is only 1.5 million units.

At this rate, the nation will be more than 10 million units short before the end of the next decade.

With land, labor, materials and financing cost zooming the price of housing at a current rate of 10 per cent a year, millions of Americans, especially those with low incomes, are rapidly being priced out of decent housing. It is clear that the old way of doing things—erecting a dwelling brick by brick and board by board on site—is no longer good enough.

No one is more aware of this than George Romney, secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development. The onetime president of American Motors, who stole a lead on the auto industry with his compact car, has launched a campaign called "Operation Breakthrough." Its aim is to bring automobile assembly line methods into the construction industry and mass-produce small town houses to sell below the $20,000 level, preferably in the $10,000-$12,000 range.

Already some minor, but important, breakthroughs can be reported.

In Detroit, Walter Reuther, head of the United Automobile Workers, who used to sit on the opposite side of the bargaining table from Romney, has been a moving force behind the creation of the Metropolitan Detroit Citizens Development Authority.

The authority has placed an initial order for 250 three-bedroom, factory-built houses with one manufacturer and 800 slightly more expensive homes with another.

On the legislative front, the first major step "to break the logjam of restrictive local building codes," to use the phrase of the Urban Land Institute, is a bill introduced in Congress by Rep. William S. Moorhead, D-Pa. Called the Building Sciences Act of 1969, it would establish a non-governmental institution to act as a clearing house and building code co-ordination center for the entire country.

In the private sector, 41 concrete firms operating 67 plants throughout the country have formed a new consortium to produce building components.

Perhaps most encouraging of all, the 900,000-member United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, largest of the AFL-CIO building trades unions, has "modified its tradition procedures" by signing an agreement with a prefabricated housing manufacturer to put up 1,000 units in Rochester and Syracuse, N. Y., and Akron, Ohio.

The union is also negotiating with the Urban League to set up centers to train unskilled workers for employment in the company's factory.

The day when houses or apartment modules will be rolling off the assembly line by the tens of thousands is still some years distant, but the idea is well into the tooling-up stage.

It's Allergy Month

One out of every 10 Americans is suffering, to varying degrees, the miseries this month.

That is the estimated proportion of the population afflicted with some sort of allergic disease, with the most common complaint being hay fever, for which this is the high season.

Allergies are much more than personal annoyances. They represent a major—and costly—national health problem. The annual bill for drugs, primarily anti-histamines, comes to $135 million alone. Time lost from work as a result of allergy-connected illness amounts to some 25 million man-days per year, at a payroll cost of more than $400 million.

Allergies are the No. 1 chronic disease among children, accounting for a third of all chronic conditions in the under-17 age group. More than 36 million school days are lost per year.

Allergies rank seventh among medical reasons for draft rejection, with a rejection ratio of 7.4 out of every 1,000 examinations.

The allergy sufferer must see his doctor on the average three times more frequently than other patients.

Of the estimated 22 million Americans with one or more allergies, 16 million—including five million children—are victims of asthma-hay fever. But nature's pollen isn't the only villain. The list of allergies, and man-made allergens, is almost endless. Five per cent of the U.S. population can't take penicillin, while others are allergic to other drugs, detergents, cosmetics, plastics and right down the list of the wonder products of our inventive society.

It all adds up to more than sufficient reason for designating the period Aug. 15 to Sept. 15 as National Allergy Month, during which the Allergy Foundation of America is conducting an intensive campaign to educate the public and aid individual sufferers.

"Father, Forgive Them . . ."

David Lawrence Says Reduction in Military Budget Involves Risks

WASHINGTON—Anyone who watched Congress prior to World War II, when dangerous situations were arising and the United States failed to increase its defense forces, can only be deeply concerned over what is happening today.

Congressional pressure has forced the secretary of defense, Melvin Laird, to announce a reduction in the armed forces as well as in military expenditures. He frankly declared in a news conference on Thursday that "it is clear our defense readiness will be weakened."

What has happened, of course, is that Congress has told the Defense Department that its appropriations will be diminished, and the big question is where and how the cuts shall be made. Secretary Laird expressed regrets that the curtailment which he reluctantly plans to make "will reduce our capability to meet current commitments."

This comes at a time, Mr. Laird stated, when Soviet military strength is increasing, and "it is important that the American public be informed about stepped-up Soviet activities in strategic offensive and defensive fields."

So much emphasis has been placed on the Vietnam War that many citizens forget that the defense apparatus of the United States is designed to protect this country against attack from any side, and that conflicts can arise in Asia or Europe or the Middle East which might involve us. North Korea, as the "Pueblo" incident, recently emphasized, can be a source of trouble, and it is to be noted that more than 50,000 American troops are still stationed in South Korea.

Just about 28 years ago, when World War II had been raging in Europe for two years, the Congress of the United States was asked to extend the draft law which had been enacted in 1940. The struggle in Congress was close, and it was by a margin of only one vote in the House of Representatives in August 1941 that the selective service system was maintained and the draft was continued in effect. Within the next four months, the Nazi Regime had influenced the militaristic government in Japan to attack Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941.

This illustrates how suddenly the United States can be plunged into war and what preparedness can really mean.

Several areas of potential involvement of the United States exist today, and there is need not only for a large army and air force but also for an adequate navy. Yet the budget is forcing more than one hundred naval vessels to be put out of commission, including the battleship New Jersey which was recommissioned last year after a costly renovation. Moreover, the air force is to be required to limit its training program.

All this, it is admitted, involves risks. Attention has been focused mostly on Vietnam, and the recent announcement that American troops would be gradually withdrawn has given the impression that the United States can sharply cut down its defense forces. But Senator John Stennis, Democrat of Mississippi, who is chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, does not see any "apparent end" to the conflict. He says that, while he favors a gradual troop withdrawal as a signal to the enemy that the United States is sincere in its desire to end the war, he is doubtful about the outcome. He adds:

"I am not too encouraged that a quick end is in sight, nor am I persuaded that we should rush out of Vietnam unilaterally in such a way to give the impression of defeat. Such an action will certainly invite trouble elsewhere in the world for us."

Meanwhile, the Russians are building up their armed services and seemingly are preparing for a large war. They are, to be sure, concerned about the hostile attitude of the Red Chinese and have deployed some rocket and nuclear forces on the border between the two countries. If the Russians and Red Chinese get into a war, this will affect Japan and the smaller countries of Asia.

There are signs of increasing trouble in the Middle East, too, and the Soviet Navy in the Mediterranean has recently been substantially enlarged.

In the face of such danger signals, it is surprising that Congress is reducing the military budget just as if peace were in sight. Unfortunately, however, the situation around the world contains many threats of war, and it is hardly a time to cut America's military appropriations in any way that would, as officially stated, "impair our defense readiness."

Drew Pearson Says Freshman Congressman Biaggi Meddles in Military Affairs

Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson reported on July 26 that Sen. Eugene McCarthy had phoned his wife and announced that he wouldn't be coming home again and asked her for a divorce. The Senator categorically denied the story and one columnist even wrote about the McCarthy's blissful home life. Nevertheless, Jack Anderson reaffirmed on Aug. 17 that the original story not only was true but that the McCarthy's already were living quietly apart.

Three days later the Washington Star and then the Washington Post reported that McCarthy had moved into an apartment and that their attorneys were working on a settlement. This was later confirmed by Sen. McCarthy's office.

WASHINGTON—Lucius Mendel Rivers, the courtly Congressman from Gumville, S.C., has quietly put a freshman colleague in his place. The victim is Rep. Mario Biaggi, D-N.Y., who dared to meddle in military matters—which Rivers considers his exclusive province.

As the all-powerful House Armed Services chairman, Rivers keeps a paternal and protective watch over the Pentagon. He also expects generals, admirals and freshmen Congressmen to show him the proper respect.

He was only mildly provoked when Biaggi went barging down to Camp Lejeune, N.C., to investigate racial disturbances. Biaggi is a former Bronx policeman who was elected to Congress on the law-and-order issue. Raising a howl about black Marines beating up white Marines made a hit in the poor white neighborhoods of the Bronx.

If Rivers didn't like having a freshman investigate the Marines without his permission, the Congressman from Gumville was mollified at least by Biaggi's attitude toward the blacks. Indeed, Rivers remarked to one of the ever-present colonels whom he keeps in attendance: "We have to get that boy (Biaggi) on our team."

But Biaggi, apparently ignorant of the homage a freshman is expected to pay to committee chairmen, made a fatal mistake.

"There are those who have told me," he boasted in a House speech on the Camp Lejeune incidents, "that the Armed Services Committee showed no visible awareness of the problem until I called attention to it."

Chairman Rivers turned white with inner rage, but he kept a dignified silence on the House floor. As surely as "Light Horse Harry" Lee's birthday falls on Jan. 29, however, an upstart like Biaggi must be disciplined. So Rivers quietly returned to his office and telephoned all committee chairmen to notify them that Biaggi had "broken with tradition."

Rivers' Wrath

On Capitol Hill, where seniority reigns serene, an offense against tradition and the seniority system is akin to breaking the First Commandment. Hereafter, Biaggi will be lucky if he's permitted to investigate the House beauty shop. Rivers has attained his eminence in military affairs, of course, because of his ability to outlive men of more talent and because of his foresight in being born in an area that still treasures the one-party system. This has given him the seniority that has elevated him, escalator fashion, to the chairmanship of the powerful House Armed Services Committee and has given him sway over the nation's 3.5 million servicemen.

He runs his committee with all the pomposity of Gen. Douglas MacArthur and treats his committee members like lackeys and lieutenants. He went ahead with authorization to begin construction on the Safeguard Anti-Ballistic Missile System, for example, despite the fact that the House hasn't approved the system.

The grandiloquent Rivers, who has given his personal approval, considers the House vote a mere technicality and, indeed, the House is expected to pass the Safeguard System overwhelmingly. But Rivers didn't even wait for the close, uncertain Senate vote.

Despite assurances to the contrary, Rivers' military construction bill authorized the expenditure of $2.5 million for Safeguard construction at the NORAD command center under Cheyenne Mountain in the Colorado Rockies. Rivers' report, which accompanied the military construction bill, flatly stated that the bill contained no Safeguard construction money.

When the purpose of the $2.5 million was discovered, Rivers sheepishly blamed the Air Force for not telling him. This column can report, however, that Rivers had received a top-secret FBI study of the computers and communications at the NORAD complex. The FBI investigated the interservice problems created by locating the Army's Safeguard in the Air Force's mountain.

Even if Rivers didn't read the study, he can't deny that he questioned the Air Force's Brig. Gen. Maurice R. Reilly about the Safeguard construction behind closed doors of the Armed Services Committee. Here is an excerpt from the transcript:

Rivers: You are talking about the Safeguard?

Gen. Reilly: NORAD Cheyenne Mountain complex.

Rivers: That will be part of Safeguard, too?

Gen. Reilly: Sir, Safeguard is involved.

The Congressman from Gumville has never presumed to call himself brilliant. As he has put it: "I don't think the lightning of intellect struck the laproot of my family tree."

But his most charitable colleagues doubt that he didn't understand what he was discussing with Gen. Reilly.

New Vietnam Attacks Expected

Captured enemy documents indicate that the communists will mount new attacks against South Vietnamese cities on Sept. 2. Special targets apparently have been chosen for their headline value.

The communists seem to be more eager to shock Americans at home than to make military gains. The targets are more likely to produce psychological than military results.

Whether the enemy will be able to carry out their plans is another question. American forces have been effective during the past several months at upsetting communist plans.

Meanwhile, there is still no sign that the North Vietnamese are willing to make concessions at the Paris truce table. The United States has excellent pipelines into Hanoi, where the North Vietnamese leaders definitely are preparing for renewed warfare.

Their strategy apparently is to keep fighting until the American people are so sick of the war that President Nixon will accept Hanoi's truce terms.

Henry J. Taylor Says Futile Wage-Price Controls

Futile Wage-Price Controls

France's franc devaluation was accompanied by a whole spectrum of price-wage controls. This was a desperate move—as surely doomed to unworkableness as trying to put Niagara Falls into a bucket. Yet as always with inflation, Sen. George S. McGovern and other Washington Robin Hoods of the Red Ink are rumbling that we need price-wage controls in the United States.

We need price-wage controls like we need a hole in the head. They would simply wander us into an economic mine field—on what may appear covered with green grass, an innocent meadow, but an explosive mine field nevertheless.

Nothing is easier to document and prove than that price-wage controls assassinate the incentive and produce great black markets and totally demoralize the entire pricing system, which is the essence of the checks-and-balances factor in free enterprise.

They everlastingly demonstrate the universal futility and failure of artificial, political methods in dealing with price-wage problems.

On February 21, 1966 President Charles de Gaulle stated: "While our gold and currency reserves had fallen in May, 1958, to $630 million, they are today nine times larger. There is no currency in the world stronger than the franc. We can handle, on an international level, all economic, financial and monetary problems." But his strong words have been denied by events. Accordingly, a wide spectrum of price-wage controls. And, accordingly, the French are hit by abundant new scarcities today and all the new austerity is at higher prices.

Hard on the heels of the French devaluation, Chile devalued her currency. It was the fourteenth time in 12 years. Chile has had price-wage controls throughout these years. Yet actual food prices have advanced nearly 50 percent annually. You must pay about 35 percent interest on a bank loan—if you can get it. The Chilean government gives an automatic annual wage boost which is supposed to equal the rise in the cost of living. But to get anybody to work you must add an undercover supplement—seldom, if ever, reported for taxes.

Uruguayans retire at 50 on full pay, paid by the state. But that does not mean anything. They're paid at the official wage when they were 50, and are expected to live under the controlled prices. But a mockingbird couldn't live on what it actually costs you to buy anything in Montevideo today.

The most recent time Argentina devalued her peso was the ninth devaluation since 1964. The average is about twice a year. At the rate this and most other South American currencies are going, it will soon be cheaper to eat the money. Price-wage controls, in turn, have done nothing but add to the scarcities.

When Britain devalued the pound, Prime Minister Harold Wilson announced that domestic buying controls would be applied to reduce home purchases and thereby provide more goods for export.

But prices, wages, purchases and other curbs require a Matterhorn of paper work, debate, specific reviews and hearings, false starts and foul strikes—all of which takes time. The obvious happened. The British went on an enormous buying spree to get things while they could.

Buyers beating the gun sucked the store shelves bare. Manufacturers had to replenish the domestic spending spree caused diversion from exports. Britain increased her imports. This badly damaged exactly the balance-of-payments problem the devaluation was supposed to help.

As one result, Britain's productivity today is lower than any Western European industrialized nation. And British unemployment is at, and remains at, the highest level in 28 years.

In our own country and elsewhere political spenders making hay in inflationary governments are always more willing to apply price-wage controls and to curb private spending than they are to cut their own spending of the people's money and put the country's financial house in order.

Let's get this straight: No matter how price-wage controls are dressed up to sound "necessary" they are an absolute confession of financial irresponsibility. The price-wage balance is always destroyed when a government continues to borrow and spend billions it hasn't got. And this is stopped price-wage controls are only a misleading exercise in official deception.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

The only time I think of ice cream is when I'm awake. Then it is almost perpetual. My wife has a lovely face, maple walnut and vanilla. She is the one who started it all, by imposing handcuffs on what I eat. You probably refer to it as a diet; to my way of thinking, it's an oral zipper.

What have I accomplished? Nothing. She takes the credit for making me—svelte? For a short man, I weighed 184. This morning, the Toledos tipped at 164. I have one hell of a figure, but the face looks like prune whip. Would you believe a warm fudge sundae?

Karen is growing up tall and leggy and beautifully blonde, but the kid can eat as much ice cream as she pleases—and she sits next to me at dinner. Kathi, our sex symbol, leans over the plate with a slash of brown hair over one eye, and pushes a spoon around the outer edge of the ice cream, savoring each morsel and making it last as long as she can.

Gayle, our sturdy block of dynamite, can knock off a pint of ice cream and chase it with a can of beer. For me, this is verboten, nix, nada and forget it. Jackie Gleason, who has done considerable research into the matter of weight, decided long ago that it is much better to be fat and happy than skinny and miserable.

Ironically, I do not dream of ice cream. My nightmare dalliances feature girls who look like vanilla cones. The hair, I assure you, is wild. None of this upsets me. I know that girls come in 28 delicious flavors, but I am content with the one I have.

It may interest me to know that Nero was the first person to taste ice cream. Rome was in the middle of a blazing hot summer and the Christian martyrs were dying like flies when some courtier—probably a valet named Guda Uma—hastened to the hills in his chariot and brought back a confection of shaved ice with berry juice squeezed on it.

Emperor Nero Claudius licked it and murmured: "E pluribus Unum" or some such Latin phrase. He decreed that the perfumed ice was too good for the peasants and decreed at once that anyone found eating it—present company excepted—would be crushed by a glacier.

Not much was heard of the substance after that, although in the latter part of the 19th century, some smartypants learned that if one freezes a combination of milk, sugar and flavoring, the result—properly stirred in salted ice—becomes iced cream.

By that time, the peasants didn't give a hot fudge for Nero's opinion because no one had heard from him in 1,800 years and it was assumed that he was lost or kidnapped. Even my maternal grandmother began to eat the stuff. So far as I can discover, it was Mary McSwiggan Tier's only weakness. Excluding grandpa, of course.

He had blond curving mustaches and when he twiddled them, grandma was a quivering wreck. Around the turn of the century, iced cream became ice cream and the peasants took it for granted. At the World's Fair, held in St. Louis in 1904, the cone was invented.

Hundreds of thousands of people were humming "Meet Me in St. Louis, Louis" and eating their ice cream out of saucers. We professional ice creamers refer to this as the chase method. Howard Bailey, writing for a magazine called Mankind, says that the patrons of the Fair tired of chasing a ball of vanilla across a plate and back.

This is a bad rap because there were fifty ice cream booths at the Fair. One day a vendor of the frozen potable said he had run out of dishes, and asked Ernest A. Hamivi, a native of Damascus, to lend him a few plates. Effendi Hamivi said "No dice," or the equivalent in Syrian, and continued to bake a wafer-like waffle called zalabia. They were made with a checkerboard iron, sprinkled with powdered sugar, and served with mashed fruits.

Hamivi wanted to know why the ice cream had to be served on a dish in the first place. He said he could fashion an edible container, and he did. It was shaped like a cornucopia, made out of curved waffle, and a ball of ice cream sat on top. Poor Hamivi—he invented it for the guy in the next booth.

Kennedy, Humphrey, Muskie In Close Leadership Battle

PRINCETON, N. J. — The race for leadership of the Democratic party shapes up today as a tight three-way contest between Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine.

The latest standings, based on a survey completed last week end, one month after Senator Kennedy's controversial car accident in Chappaquiddick, Mass., represent a substantial loss in support for Kennedy from an earlier measurement in February.

In the latest survey, Kennedy is the choice of 30 per cent of Democrats and Humphrey the choice of 27 per cent to take over the direction of the party for the next three years. Close on their heels is Muskie, the choice of 25 per cent, followed by Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota with 9 per cent and Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota with 3 per cent.

In the earlier survey, Kennedy was picked by 45 per cent of Democrats for the party leadership, compared to 21 per cent for Humphrey, 17 per cent for Muskie, 7 per cent for McCarthy and one per cent for McGovern.

In the latest survey, conducted August 15 through 18, persons interviewed who classified themselves as Democrats (543 out of a total sample of 1355 adults) were handed a card listing five Democrats frequently mentioned in speculation over the 1972 presidential nomination. This question was then asked:

Which ONE of the men listed on this card would you like to see take over the direction of the plans and policies of the Democratic party during the next three years?

Here are the latest results

Choices of Democratic Voters		Latest		Feb.
	%		%		%
Edward Kennedy	30	45
Hubert Humphrey	27	21
Edmund Muskie	25	17
Eugene McCarthy	9	7
George McGovern	3	1

Others Named

Democratic voters interviewed were also asked if they preferred someone not on the list. The following persons were named: Sen. Birch Bayh, Ind.;

State Assemblyman Julian Bond, Ga.; Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr., Va.; Sen. Frank Church, Idaho; Gov. John B. Connally, Tex.; Sen. J. William Fulbright, Ark.; Dick Gregory, Sen. Fred R. Harris, Okla.; Sen. Philip A. Hart, Mich.; Sen. Vance Hartke, Ind.; Sen. Harold E. Hughes, Iowa; and Gov. Richard J. Hughes, N. J.

Also named were: Sen. Henry M. Jackson, Wash.; former Gov. Robert B. Meyner, N. J.; Sen. William Proxmire, Wis.; Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, S.C.; John D. Rockefeller IV, Sec. State, W. Va.; Sen. Richard B. Russell, Ga.; former Gov. Terry Sanford, N.C.; Adlai E. Stevenson III, State Treasurer, Ill.; Sen. Stuart Symington, Mo.; Jesse Unruh, Minority leader of Calif. Assembly; former Gov. George C. Wallace, Ala.; and Gen. William Westmoreland.

Think Kennedy Still Seeks White House

Although Senator Kennedy recently disavowed interest in seeking his party's nomination for President in 1972, a large majority of rank-and-file Democrats (and of all adults nationwide) believe he would like to be President at some time in the future. The proportions who hold this belief remain little changed from an earlier survey in February.

A majority of Democrats say they would like to see him become President at some time in the future (55 per cent) and think he will someday win the nomination (53 per cent). However, the proportions who now hold these views are smaller than in the earlier survey.

In addition, a smaller percentage of Democrats now than in February, but still a substantial majority, say they have a favorable opinion of the Massachusetts senator.

The following table compares attitudes toward Kennedy in the two surveys, both in terms of the views of Democrats and the public as a whole. The findings are based on the percentage who can identify Kennedy (94 per cent in the earlier survey and 96 per cent in the latest).

Part Time Cowboys

AUBURN, Maine (UPI)—State troopers Hollis Dixon and Raymond Curtis could exchange their patrol cars for Stetson and Lariat.

While patrolling the Maine Turnpike Saturday night, Dixon spotted six horses, escapees from a pasture four miles away, galloping down the median strip.

He and Curtis stopped their cars, blue lights flashing, to warn oncoming motorists. A posse assembled spontaneously and quickly captured three animals that crossed the southbound lanes.

The others, with Dixon and Curtis in pursuit, fled back to their pasture.

Must Go to Voters County Charter in Last Stages

KINGSTON
Ulster County's proposed charter is taking final shape. The document, if accepted by the County Legislature and adopted by the voters will become law, providing for an executive form of government.

The product of nearly two years of study by a 17-member Charter Commission, in partnership with the public, the document, as it appears now, will create an executive head for the county, in the office of a county executive, elected by all voters of the county for a four-year term.

Other changes that might be incorporated into the proposed charter are aimed for greater efficiency of government. Control procedures adequate to the county's greatly increased fiscal responsibilities would be provided with an elected commissioner and an appointed commissioner of finance. A Department of General Administration would be created to eliminate duplication in many areas. A Department of Public Works would have broader responsibilities and better organization than the present Highway Department.

The County Legislature would remain much as it is, subject to reapportionment after each federal census as provided by state law. Term of office might be four years, or might remain at two—the matter is still being discussed.

The coroner system would be retained and refined.

Although the commission has had at its disposal, and has made use of, outside studies and charters of other counties, it determined early in its deliberations to "make this the best possible charter to meet the specific requirements of Ulster county and its residents in the words of the chairman, attorney Ward W. Ingalsbe, Jr.

This aim led to a thorough study not just of "model" charters, but of existing conditions and needs in Ulster county, and an awareness of the opinions and attitudes of all its residents. Department heads and employees were interviewed, civic leaders and others consulted.

Most importantly, no less than nine public hearings have been held to date.

The first of these were held in various geographical locations of the county to make it more convenient for residents to attend. No specific proposals were even mentioned during this first round of hearings.

"We just wanted to find out what the public was thinking, what ideas they might want us to consider," Ingalsbe said.

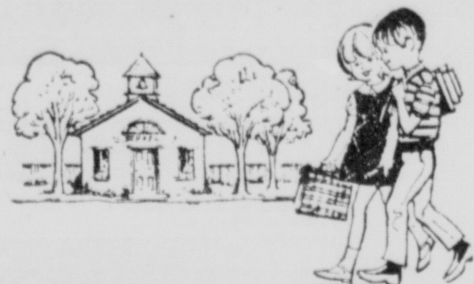

With information gathered at these hearings, and with other examination of other charters, the commission then formulated a number of tentative proposals. These were placed before the hearings. Several changes have been made already as a result.

Even now, as final drafts are being hammered out, public comment and suggestion is welcome, Ingalsbe pointed out. Such suggestions may be submitted to the commission, preferably in writing, at any time. There is a possibility that one or two more hearings may be scheduled.

When the Charter Commission has finished its work, it will submit a recommended charter to the County Legislature. That body may accept it as is, accept it with changes, or reject it. When accepted by the Legislature, it still goes before the voters at a referendum election for adoption, and under present state law must be adopted by a majority of the voters within the city, and majority of voters in the county outside the city.

Just when this vote will take place is uncertain. The probability is that it will be at a general election (first Tuesday after the first Monday in November). That much the Legislature has already indicated, in order to avoid the high cost of a special election. Whether it will be this year or next depends upon whether there is sufficient time to be certain that the charter represents the wishes of the people, and is the best possible document the Commission feels can be produced.

Administration Reviews Gun Curb Differences

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration is reviewing the sharp differences between its own position on gun control and the proposals of the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence.

The administration declared its opposition to further gun control legislation last month only four days before the commission, headed by Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, recommended confiscation of most of the nation's 25 million handguns and gradual state registration and licensing of shotguns and rifles.

Officials decline comment at this stage on the Eisenhower Commission proposal and refuse to speculate on its possible impact on the administration position.

"We've distributed the report to various people in our department for review," said Donald E. Santarelli, associate deputy attorney general.

Since Santarelli and a Treasury Department spokesman presented the administration position before a Senate subcommittee July 28, the Treasury Department has also supported moves to exempt .22-caliber rimfire, shotgun and rifle ammunition from the 1968 Gun Control Act.

Although Santarelli declined to discuss the review in detail, his office is confronted with a number of obvious challenges to its position, including the constitutional basis for gun control.

"Registration and licensing proposals represent a distinct departure from previously held concepts of federal controls of sporting firearms and would constitute an unwarranted invasion into the province of state and local governments," Santarelli testified in July.

Eugene T. Rossides, assistant secretary at Treasury—which administers the 1968 act—argued that even present gun control laws are on shaky ground and must be tested in court before further legislation can be considered.

Rossides referred to a 1968 Supreme Court decision declaring that a registration provision in the 1932 National Firearms Act was unconstitutional because it amounted to self-incrimination. The Eisenhower Commission cited a long list of court cases, including the 1968 high court decision, to back up its assertion that an effective registration law could be written without including any self-incrimination provisions which would void enforcement.

Neither the commission nor administration officials have cited a barrier to gun legislation the Second Amendment: "A well regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free state, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed."

The commission said the courts have clearly interpreted the amendment as "a prohibition against federal interference with the state militia and not as a guarantee of an individual's right to bear arms."

The Nixon administration and the Eisenhower Commission positions differ in other respects.

—On the effect of registration on crime: Administration—"There is no clear indication that such a program would have a significant impact on the criminal misuse of firearms."

"An effective national firearms policy would help to reduce gun violence in the United States."

—On the adequacy of present laws:

Other Views

Administration—"On the basis of seven months experience, the Gun Control Act of 1968 is working reasonably well and is providing the needed support for state and local controls for which it was designed. We respectfully suggest that the controls under the Gun Control Act of 1968 be given a full opportunity to prove their worth."

Commission—"The 1968 act is not designed to affect either the overall size of the tremendous United States gun population which is the legacy of past firearms policies or of the hand-to-hand or 'street' sales of second hand guns. . . . We conclude that the rising tide of firearms violence in this country merits further legislative action at the present time."

—On the expense of instituting gun registration:

Administration—"The national registration of firearms and the federal licensing of gun owners would be an extremely costly undertaking."

Commission—"The staff report said because registration and record-keeping would be financed through fees, the cost would not be excessive." The commission estimated buying confiscated handguns would cost about $500 million.

The commission and the administration have both proposed that gun control be left to the states, but the commission went one step further by recommending that the federal government establish minimum standards which would become law if a state doesn't act within five years.

Ship Reports Of Korean's Ride On Turtle Back

MALMO, Sweden (UPI)—A Swedish ship headed for Los Angeles today carrying a Korean who had clung to the shell of a giant turtle for 15 hours before being rescued from the Pacific Ocean.

The bizarre incident was reported by radio from Capt. Horst Werder, skipper of the Swedish motor ship Citadell, to the shipowners, Per Liljegen of Landskrona, north of Malmo.

Werder said the unidentified Korean tumbled off the Liberian freight Pedelara about 113 miles off the coast of Nicaragua Friday. The Korean spotted a giant turtle nearby, climbed

Legion Teams Place

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Two upstate New York teams placed in the national American Legion junior color guard competition here Saturday.

Winner of the contest, in conjunction with the legion's annual convention, was Troopers Post No. 2 of Casper, Wyo.

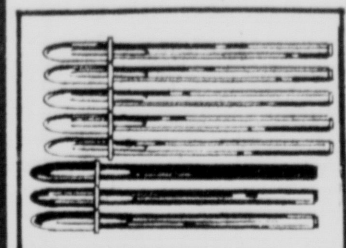

on its back and clung desperately for 15 hours.

A lookout saw a man's head bobbing on the surface when the Citadell was steaming northwards in the Pacific. "We were shocked to see it was a live man on the back of a giant animal," Werder said. "We managed to get him aboard and he fell unconscious on the deck."

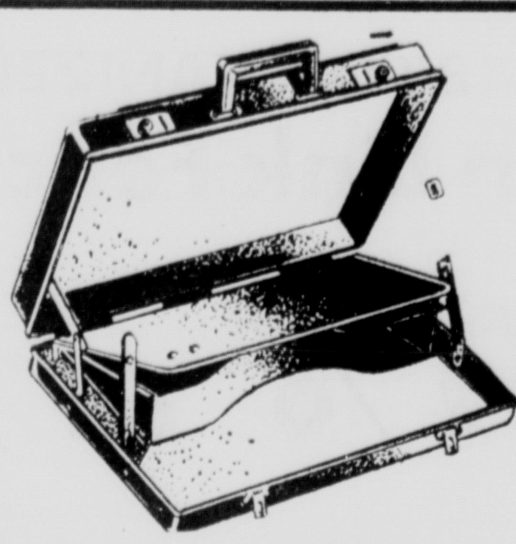

The Korean recovered quickly and was in good condition, Werder said. The Citadell was expected to dock in Los Angeles Wednesday or Thursday.

KINGSTON
Flahs of Kingston Plaza will mark its first anniversary with a day-long celebration at the store on Thursday, Aug. 28. Flahs, Kingston's newest department store, opened its doors Aug. 28, 1968. Joseph Catania, store manager, said, "We have received tremendous response from the people of Kingston and surrounding communities. It is because of them that we are able to have a first anniversary."

Customers at the store Thursday will be invited to share in a gigantic birthday cake throughout the day. There will also be a day long preview of many of the fall fashions that will appear on Flahs' shelves in the coming months.

Catania stated models will be fashioning the latest in men's and women's clothes at various times during the day. He said that customers will be able to get a good indication of what will be in vogue this fall.

Reviewing the events of the past year, Catania cited the December "stag night" as one of the most popular programs held at the store. That evening, after the store's normal closing hours, men were allowed to shop for Christmas gifts for their wives. Catania stated that another "stag night" would "definitely" be held this year.

Catania revealed Friday that plans are being discussed for future expansion of the Kingston Plaza store but added that only tentative arrangements have been made so far.

Flahs also has branches in Albany, Colonie, Stuyvesant and Poughkeepsie. The Kingston store will be open from 11 a. m. to 9 p. m. Aug. 28.

City Surplus At $119,435

Mayor Raymond W. Garraghan should be off to a flying start on his 1970 budget, according to a report from the accounting firm of Ronder and Ronder which submitted audit figures to city hall on the 1968 budget last week.

The audit shows a surplus of $119,435 for 1968. The surplus was carried in the 1969 budget, Mayor Garraghan said the extra money came in the form of a sales tax check from the state on Dec. 31, 1968. A public hearing had been held on the budget on Dec. 26 and it was approved by the Common Council on Jan. 2.

Garraghan said the actual surplus will be $103,734 since he has already figured a surplus of $15,701 in the 1969 budget.

Driver Fined, Left Scene

Frank Frangello, 44, of Saugerties, was fined $50 in Saugerties Justice Court this morning for leaving the scene of an accident on Rte. 4, Saugerties, at 12:35 a.m. Justice Calvin Cody presided.

The charge arises out of a one-car accident on Glasco Turnpike in which the car Frangello was driving ran off the road and into a large washout ditch, according to state police.

A passenger in the car, John Polcastro, 16, was injured, sustaining lacerations and contusions to the body. He sought the services of his own physician.

'A' Unit Back to War...

The battalion had been trying to get to the wreckage.

Sunday morning, Bacon was personally leading three of his companies in the assault. He told him that the soldiers of A Company would not follow his orders.

"Repeat that please," the colonel asked without raising his voice. "Have you told them what it means to disobey orders under fire?"

"I think they understand," the lieutenant replied, "but some of them simply had enough—they are broken. There are boys here who have only 90 days left in Vietnam. They want to go home in one piece. The situation is psychic here."

"Are you talking about enlisted men or are the NCO's also involved?" the colonel asked.

"That's the difficulty here," Shurtz said. "We've got a leadership problem. Most of our squad and platoon leaders have been killed or wounded."

A company at one point in the fight was down to 60 men—half its assigned combat strength.

Quietly, the colonel told Shurtz: "Go talk to them again and tell them that to the best of our knowledge the bunkers are now empty—the enemy has withdrawn. The mission of A Company today is to recover their dead. They have no reason to be afraid. Please take a hand count of how many really do not want to go."

Th lieutenant came back a few minutes later: "They won't go, colonel, and I did not ask for the hand count because I am afraid that they all stick together even though some might prefer to go."

The colonel told him: "Leave these men on the hill and take your CP—command post—element, and move to the objective."

Then Bacon told his executive officer, Maj. Richard Waite, and one of his seasoned Vietnam veterans, Sgt. Okey Blakenship of Panther, W.Va., to fly from the battalion base "LZ Center" across the valley to talk with the reluctant troops of A Company.

"Give them a pep talk and a kick in the butt," he said.

They found the men bearded and exhausted in the tall blackened elephant grass, their uniforms ripped and caked with dirt.

"One of them was crying," said Blakenship.

Then the soldier told why they would not move.

"It poured out of them," the sergeant said.

They said they were sick of the endless battling in torrid heat, the constant danger of being killed or wounded.

A company went back to the war.

"Don't call us cowards, we are not cowards," the soldier howled, running toward Blakenship with his fists raised.

Blakenship turned his back and walked down the bomb-scarred ridge line to where the company commander waited.

The sergeant looked back and saw that the men of A Company were stirring. They picked up their rifles, fell into a loose formation and followed him down the cratered slope.

Town Assessor Plans to Run For Reelection

WOODSTOCK
Frank J. Tackella, 19 Simons Drive, Woodstock, has announced his candidacy for reelection as town assessor, a post he has held for ten years.

A Republican, Tackella who seeks the nomination at a Sept. 4 caucus to be held at 7:30 p.m. in Town Hall, has served the townspeople in a variety of capacities for the past 18 years.

He has been collector and treasurer for the Zena School District and has been instrumental in piloting the project which gave tax relief to Woodstock's senior citizens.

A member of the We've Had It Taxpayers Association, he says he is concerned with the continually mounting cost of education and feels the education of the young is everyone's concern and "all who earn an income should pay their fair share of the tax burden" and not have the homeowners pay for it all.

Tackella says he feels strongly about it especially because Woodstock has a high percentage of its homes owned by elderly people with fixed incomes.

He says that "relief from school taxes can only be had by having everyone help pay for education of the children by tying in the school taxes to the personal income tax."

"How can anyone think that a couple over 65, earning $3,000 can maintain a home, pay taxes and insurance and live on such a sum. The minimum should be increased to $5,000, or better still, exempt these people entirely from any taxes."

Tackella asks his friends and neighbors to support him at the caucus, stressing his experience. "This job is the most important one in town government. There is no room for inexperience. An assessor must have a knowledge of real estate and real estate values. I have been in real estate for more than 20 years..."

Authorities reported that at about 1:30 a. m. today, George Lyons, 26, of Green Street, Port Jervis, and Roy (Sonny) Carpino, of 7 Wurts Street, left the bar and walked to the side walk. An unidentified man reportedly hit Carpino with a baseball bat and Lyons said he was struck on the side and back, with an object he thought was a bat.

McCullough said Carpino and Lyons ran to a car and Carpino drove to Benedictine Hospital. Examination there disclosed

Lyons apparently was suffering stab wounds of the side and back. He was admitted after treatment. Carpino was not hospitalized, the sergeant said.

At about 1:40 a. m., McCullough reported, Richard Mayr, 32, of RD Box 525, Walden, and his nephew, Robert Cavanaugh, walked from the Thomas Street tavern and a man, believed to be the same one involved in the previous assault, reportedly hit Cavanaugh with a baseball bat. Police said Mayr took the bat from the man and later returned it to him.

The assailant then proceeded to swing the bat and hit Mayr. Mayr was taken to Kingston Hospital where it was learned he was bleeding from what was described as a stab wound on the back. Cavanaugh was not seriously injured, the sergeant said.

The investigation is being continued by the detective division.

City Man Held For Assault

George D. LaTorre, 40, of 7 DeWitt Street, was arrested Saturday on a charge of third degree assault after he allegedly punched his wife, Barbara, during a quarrel. LaTorre was held in $500 bail pending an appearance in City Court.

In other police cases over the weekend, Gilberto Alvarez, 21, of 51 Furnace Street, and Jorge Alvarez, 19, of 71 Furnace Street, were booked for disorderly conduct following an incident on Thomas Street. They were scheduled for a City Court appearance.

Indians Ask Change Of Double Standard

ONONDAGA RESERVATION, N.Y. (AP)—Indians from across North America have pointed to a South Dakota murder case and called for a change in the "double standard of justice, one for whites and one for Indians."

Representatives from over 50 tribes are meeting to discuss ways of unifying and preserving their diverse cultures.

Sunday they protested what they termed "flagrant injustice" in condemning Thomas J. Whitehawk, a South Dakota Sioux, to the electric chair.

He is accused of fatally shooting James Yeado at Yeado's Vermillion, S.D., home in the spring of 1967, but has received two stays of execution pending an appeal for a new trial.

Indian delegates to the meeting said Whitehawk was the victim of prejudice as an Indian since capital punishment has only been invoked once in South Dakota in the last 20 years.

"Without reference to guilt or innocence, we protest this flagrant injustice, all too typical of a double standard of justice, one for whites and one for Indians, in local courts," said a statement signed by 72 delegates from all the tribes represented.

The Onondaga tribe issued a call for removal of U.S. Secretary of the Interior Walter Hickel from office. The statement issued by the tribal chiefs was similar to one issued by the Central Hudson G. & E. last Friday at the close of the first week of meetings.

The Onondaga statement described Hickel as "one of the most dangerous of men to have power and jurisdiction over the lands, waters, air and natural resources."

City Artist Captures Landing on Canvas

By JON POWERS

KINGSTON

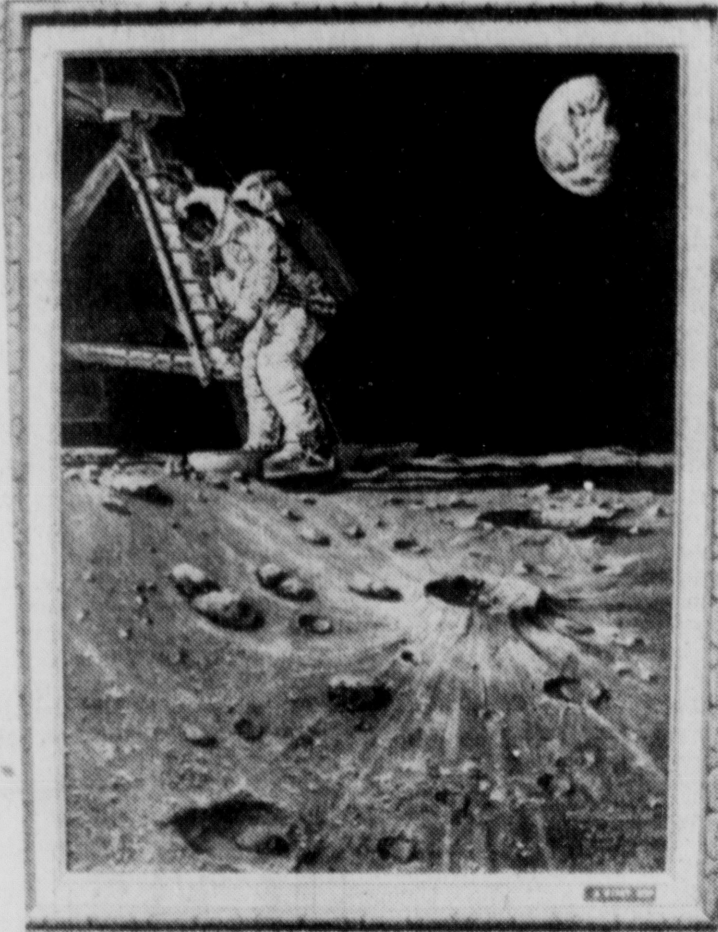

For John Zaccheo of 265 Albany Avenue the Apollo 11 moon landing moved him to more than just words.

Zaccheo, like most Americans, watched the historic landing on television several weeks ago but then, unlike most people, he painted a detailed account of the landing that included even the most inconspicuous wrinkles in the space suits of the two moon walking astronauts.

Zaccheo's motive for painting man's most adventurous step was twofold. The Kingston resident, who has painted professionally for the past six years, intended his painting to be a booster for the space program and a tribute to the courage and ingenuity of the Apollo 11 astronauts.

But Zaccheo did not expect the acclaim that his painting, so far, has received. Word circulated several weeks ago through the various departments of the space agency that the graduate of Dutchess County Community College had done something quite extraordinary. Officials at Grumman Aircraft Company on Long Island, who developed and built the lunar landing module, examined the painting and, in Zaccheo's words, "thought it would be nice if the painting were hung in the office of the Grumman president."

And that's where Zaccheo's painting is today. Last week he presented the painting to the Grumman president at ceremonies on Long Island. Zaccheo has been a prolific painter since the day he graduated from Kingston High School in 1961. He attended Dutchess Community College for two years, received his degree in Liberal Arts and then spent another two years at the Poughkeepsie college and received a degree in Commercial Arts.

"A GIANT STEP" BY KINGSTON'S JOHN ZACCHEO

City and SPCA Embark on Dog Control Program

By HUGH REYNOLDS

KINGSTON—The city of Kingston and the Ulster County SPCA have reached agreement on dog control within the city limits.

City Clerk Thomas R. Lyle told The Freeman that Mrs. Katherine Stoutenburgh, president of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, has agreed to house all dogs that the city collects through its newly appointed dog warden.

The dog warden is Jesse Decker of 25 North Wilbur Avenue, he will be on duty from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. and will also be available for emergency calls. Decker will drive his own truck which is being equipped with a two-way radio and a cage to hold the animals. According to Lyle, the city will pay Decker $30 a month for the use of his truck plus mileage. Decker is to be paid at the rate of $5,300 per year by the city.

The agreement on Wednesday culminated several weeks of negotiations between Mrs. Stoutenburgh and Arnold Adams, chief agent for the SPCA, on one hand, and Aldermen Peter Mancuso (D-12th Ward), and Mrs. Florence Ludlow (D-Fourth Ward) and City Clerk Lyle, on the other.

The SPCA had termed the city's dog ordinance, passed unanimously by the Common Council on Aug. 1, "unenforceable" and that it was directed at the dogs and not the people that owned them.

Mrs. Stoutenburgh and Adams, in a Freeman interview, also took strong exception to a section of the ordinance which states in part, "if a seized dog is not redeemed, the dog shall be sold... and the purchaser must pay the purchase price to the city clerk or city treasurer." "Our dogs are not for sale," Mrs. Stoutenburgh said. "They are available for adoption."

Mrs. Stoutenburgh contends that the SPCA, through its adoption requirements, is able to defeat the purpose of a humane screen applicants and choose the best home for a dog. They look for private homes for their animals.

Unfortunately for the two preventers of cruelty to animals, the private market for ASPCA. "We didn't want to get into the dog selling business, anyway," City Clerk Lyle says.

Still, Mrs. Stoutenburgh and Adams feel the city is not

Justice Candidates in Rhinebeck Give Their Views of the Issues

RHINEBECK—Two more candidates for Rhinebeck justice of the peace aired their feelings today, in preparation for the decisive Wednesday Republican Caucus.

Hurley Library Reading Club Closes Aug. 29

HURLEY—The Hurley Library Association has announced that the summer reading contest at the library will end on Friday, Aug. 29.

Mrs. Seymour Semilof, contest co-ordinator, has stated that participants must submit all books reports prior to or on the closing date. Winners of the contest will be announced Tuesday, Sept. 2. All those who participated in the contest will be awarded a certificate of participation. These certificates will be ready at the library the first week in September.

The public is reminded that during the school year the hours at the Hurley Library are Tuesday through Friday 3 p.m. until 5 p.m. and 7 p.m. until 8:30 p.m. The library is also open Saturday from 10:00 a.m. until noon.

DeWitt Gurnell, retired pharmacist, added their voices to that of Herman Tietjen, another lawyer, seeking the nomination.

Ulrich said, "Today, more than ever before, we are involved with infinite sociological changes. As a practical lawyer, it is my belief that justice and reason must go hand in hand in accord with the trends of today."

"With expanded jurisdiction conferred upon the Justice Court, it is essential that Republicans choose the individual who can best meet and fulfill the many complex demands of the office."

"I further believe that my experience as a practicing attorney and my understanding of this community, its needs, desires and problems, best meet the requirements for justice of the peace."

Ulrich is a member of the New York and Dutchess County Bar Associations and was admitted to the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit.

He professes an interest in education and youth, having recently been elected to BOCES for a five year term. Other memberships include Rhinebeck Citizens' Committee, Rhinebeck Rotary Club, Chamber of Commerce, and Little League Baseball.

DeWitt Gurnell's final campaign primary utterance contained the same theme as his previous statements; youth, and preventive measures.

Gurnell said, "I feel a town judge should enforce the laws of his community, but his duties don't stop at that point."

"He should help in promoting anti-crime educational programs in schools, church groups, and civic-minded organizations. He should be ready to help those parents whose children are on the border line of minor crime involvement."

Gurnell came out for some additions to measures taken to provide recreation and spare time activity for youngsters and teenagers.

"In this day, it takes more than parents to bring up a child," he said. "His school, his church, and even his companions in the drugstore, pizza and hot dog eating place, or his hot rod influence his way of life. Whether that way of life we older folks live is worthwhile to them depends on us. Our generation must be willing to listen to our youngsters' arguments and perhaps admit at times that they might be right."

Gurnell feels that with retirement time on his hands he can successfully arbitrate affairs needing adult supervision. "This will take time, but it is essential in making our community a better place in which to live."

Doing The Right Thing

By ELIZABETH L. POST
Of The Emily Post Institute

Many people feel that good manners are like party clothing—something to be put on when company is coming and removed as soon as the guests have gone. Nothing could be farther from the truth.

It is just as important to show thoughtfulness and consideration for your family and intimate friends as for visitors whom you may never see again. Never forget that courtesy begins at home.

Here are ten questions that will test how well you live up to this maxim. You should be able to answer "yes" to all of them.

1. When you know another member of the family is expecting a phone call, do you limit your own telephone conversation?

2. Do you think to compliment other members of your family—on their appearance, their clothing, or a household chore well done?

3. Do you sometimes, without being asked, take on a task which is not usually yours?

4. Do you regularly remove all your belongings and clean out the family car after you use it?

5. Do you avoid bringing up unpleasant topics at meal time?

6. Do you come to the table even when it is only a pickup meal in the kitchen—looking neat and clean?

7. Are you really interested in the activities of the rest of your family? (Who knows, you might find their projects more rewarding than your own.)

8. Do you make a special effort to be pleasant to family friends, especially those in a different generation—younger as well as older?

9. Do you show pride in your relatives when talking to outsiders? If this would be completely hypocritical, do avoid discussing them?

10. Can you honestly say that you look forward to the times you spend at home? If so, the chances are that you in turn are pleasant company for your family.

SIGNS OF THE ZODIAC

NEW YORK, N. Y. (ED)—With the moon and the stars in reach of modern man, nothing could be more natural than our renewed interest in the profound and centuries old subject of astrology.

Today, some Paris and New York fashion designers avoid bringing out new collections under unfavorably planetary devices, there is an astrology marriage guide and an astrological dating services, and 1200 of the 1750 daily U.S. newspapers regularly print horoscope columns. The influence of astrology is so great that horoscope-casters are even asked the outcome of political situations.

Ancient man was even more fascinated with the stars as signs than we are and clay tablets with astrological maxims, dating from 3000 B.C. have been found in archeological excavations near the site of ancient Babylon. When astrology was introduced to Rome about 100 B.C., it soon became a chief amusement. Astrologers even gave out tips on the daily chariot races. Shakespeare included a reference to this craze for astrology in Julius Caesar: "The fault, dear Brutus, is not in our stars, but in ourselves."

Today, we realize the fascination of astrology without adhering to it strictly. As one famous astrologer says, "The stars impel, they do not compel." Yet, what more fabulous theme for a social gathering? Why not be in the avant garde and invite some of the most interesting signs you know to a Zodiac cocktail party?

American machine made clear glass tumblers decorated with stylized gold motifs of the Zodiac signs, plus complementary glass coasters set the scene. If you plan it carefully, each guest can receive his own Zodiac sign glass. And the glass coasters can also double as ashtrays for the busy hostess.

Avoid the usual cocktail party with materials to make up their own astrological charts. It's a simple matter of paper, pencils and astrology books—and quite a different way to entertain.

And for hors d'oeuvres, dazzle 'em with Pisces Pick-Ups—tasty clam tidbits flanked by dunking sauce:

Pisces Pick-Ups

18 Littleneck Clams
1/2 tsp. garlic salt
1 tsp. minced parsley
1/2 cup soft bread crumbs
2 eggs
2 tbs. butter.
1/2 tsp. dry mustard
Worcestershire sauce
Salt and pepper
Cook clams for one minute, drain and chop fine. Add garlic, parsley and soft bread crumbs. Season with Worcestershire, mustard, salt and pepper. Beat with one egg and butter until stiff, then form into small balls. Roll clam balls in mixture of second egg and bread crumbs, fry in deep fat till browned. Drain and serve. Makes 18 Pisces Pick-Ups. Serve on toothpicks, with side glass dish dip of one-half sour cream, one-half mayonnaise. Hungry Taureans are apt to get somewhat bullish. Appease their appetite with this tasty dish, a take-off on tiny meat balls with a different twist:

Taurus Mini-Burgers

1/2 lb. top quality ground round
1/2 cup finely grated onion
1 tbs. Burgundy wine
1/2 cup bread crumbs
1/2 cup grated celery
Mix all ingredients well, roll into tiny bite-sized balls and broil for three minutes. Transfer to ceramic electric skillet to serve very hot with toothpicks. Makes about 18 Taurus Mini-Burgers.
To round out the Zodiac menu, let Capricorn have his own dish—tasty stuffed mushrooms sure to please almost every sign:

Capricorn Crunchies

1 cup crisp bacon bits (available in glass jars at grocers)
1 tbs. butter
18 large fresh mushrooms
2 tbs. sour cream
Paprika
Scoop out mushrooms to form shell, chill well before preparing stuffing. Saute one cup of prepared bacon bits in butter. Allow bacon bits to cool, then mix with sour cream. Spoon bacon mixture into mushroom shells, and add a dash of paprika to top of each. Makes 18 Capricorn Crunchies.
And to herald the Aquarian Age, serve up this frosty

punch, dazzlingly pretty when served in a sparkling glass bowl:

Aquarius Punch

1/2 cup fine granulated sugar
1 cup fresh or frozen orange juice
1 bottle (28 oz.) ginger ale
1/2 cup lemon juice
1 pint raspberry sherbet
Combine first four ingredients in a large glass pitcher, stir till sugar dissolves. Mix with sherbet in electric blender until frothy, pour into punch bowl. Add ginger ale before serving, crushed ice if desired. Makes about 2 quarts Aquarius Punch.
Or fill up the Zodiac glasses with something a little stronger, like this light-hearted fruit and rum drink.

Viva Libras

1 ounce light Jamaican rum
1/2 ounce lime juice, fresh or bottled

1/2 ounce orange-flavored Cointreau
1/2 teaspoon powdered sugar
Blend in shaker, serve over ice in a Zodiac glass. Garnish with a sprig of mint. Makes 1 Viva Libras.

Whatever your horoscope, if you follow these recipes and use the Zodiac accessories, you'll be destined for successful party giving. After all, it's in the stars!

Janis Joplin to Appear at SPA

Janis Joplin, the acknowledged "Queen of Rock" appears at the Saratoga Performing Arts Center, Wednesday evening, Aug. 27 at 8:30 p.m. in the Center's 5,100 seat Amphitheater.

The James Cotton Blues band will appear with Miss Joplin on this Special Event concert presented by the Center.

A contortion of energy, long brown hair waving madly—

Janis Joplin belts out her throbbing blues. The intense magic of the 26-year-old Texas siren holds audiences in a spell.

The oldest child of a refinery executive in the Gulf town of Port Arthur, Janis Joplin is today one of the most dynamic white female singers in America.

After dropping out of the University of Texas, she spent five years drifting in the underground world of Texas, New York and San Francisco. Finally—tired of the beat life—Janis returned home, entered Lamar State College of Technology in Beaumont.

But in the spring of 1966, an old Texas friend, musician Travis Rivers, visited town. He was heading up a San Francisco band called Big Brother and the Holding Company and asked her to join. With no hesitation, Janis plunged into the world of the San Francisco music renaissance. At the Monterey Pop Festival in June 1967, rocking and reeling on stage, Janis stunned the audience with her powers. Her album, "Cheap Thrills," has been a big hit. Now, with a new band, a comfortable apartment in San Francisco and a multi-colored Porsche, Janis is big-time and rising.

Tickets for Janis Joplin are now on sale at the S.P.A.C. Route 50 Box Office and at all TRS Outlets in the Capital District and in the east.

Hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise:
Think I have a "Ding-Dong" of an idea to preserve family harmony at dinner time.

In order for our children to look presentable at the dinner table (clean hands and nails, sparkling faces and combed hair), I ring a little brass bell fifteen minutes prior to serving dinner.

It is their responsibility to "spit up." Then I ring the bell again when dinner is served.

How marvelous it is to see everyone in his place at the table with sparkling faces. They almost look like angels.

Mrs. L. Walker

Dear Heloise:
When the rubber backing wears off old cotton shag rugs, you can make wonderful scrubbers to wash down painted walls and woodwork. Just cut the rug in 8" x 8" squares and then stitch around the outer edges with the sewing machine so they won't ravel.

This takes only a few minutes but prolongs the life of the scrubber.

Neli Swartz

Dear Heloise:
I have made a discovery... After trying unsuccessfully to clean the rubber mat used on my kitchen sink, I tried soaking it overnight in one of those new presoaking laundry formulas.

I used a half cup and most of the stain and hard-to-remove dirt came out.

But I did soak it a second time and now it's like new.

Mrs. F. Linsley

Dear Folks:
Some little kiddies just can't get an aspirin down.

The best way I know to do this is to put it in a teaspoon. Place another teaspoon on top of it and mash down hard. This will pulverize the tablet. Then, with the top teaspoon, pick up a dab of table sugar and add it to the crushed tablet and mix. Then add a dab of water and "down the hatch."

This is the greatest way I know of for those who just can't swallow one.

Heloise

Top Stars Will Make Personal Appearances at State Fair

The Goldiggers, who have been "digging" their way to a musical fortune on the "Dean Martin Presents the Goldiggers" television show and in personal appearances across the country, will star at the New York State Fair, Syracuse, Aug. 29 and 30.

The all-girl singing and dancing group whose album, "The Goldiggers," is also currently gaining in popularity, will be joined by the famous comedian and impersonator, George Kirby, for three big shows a day at 10:30 a.m., 2:30 and 6:30 p.m.

The outdoor Empire Court Entertainment Center at the Fair will continue its policy of free shows again this year. A total of 42 shows — six a day — are planned.

The Fair opens Tuesday, Aug. 26, with Frank Sinatra, Jr., who, according to his reviews, "has a ball when touring the state fairs," which he has been doing all this year. Sinatra will headline the 10:30 a.m., 2:30 p.m., and 6:30 p.m. shows those two days (Tuesday and Wednesday).

On Thursday and Friday, the show at the same hours will proudly star the inimitable Victor Borge and the port talent of Anita Bryant. Borge, who has been described as a "veritable feast of frantic fun," will perform his "Comedy in Music" with his long-time associate, Leonid Hambro.

The Monday headliners in the 10:30 a.m., 2:30 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. slot will sing in Labor Day in traditional State Fair style: country and western.

Bill Anderson, who leads the star line-up, will be joined by his band, the Po' Boys; Crazy Elmer, songstress Jan Howard; Rufe Davis, comedy star of television's "Petticoat Junction," and LeRoy VanDyke, whose sophisticated country sound has taken the cities by storm.

This will be both Anderson and VanDyke's second visit to the New York State Fair. Anderson was in Syracuse in 1966 and VanDyke in 1967.

Joining the headliners every day will be Vaudeville Varieties '69 including Larry Griswold, the "Clown Prince of the Diving Board," nightclub and television comedian, Jack Durant; Glenn Haywood who will serve as master of ceremonies and Sabu the elephant.

The 12:30 p.m., 4:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. shows all week long will feature Big Tiny Little, former Lawrence Welk television show star; Frankie Yankovic and his polka band, and Lou Prohut and the Prohut Family Dancers. The Prohuts have eight record albums to their credit, nine years on Don McNeil's Breakfast Club, four years on the television program "Polka-Go-Round" and nightclub appearances.

The Goldiggers, who sing the songs of the '30s in a way that teenagers as well as Depression children appreciate, were chosen from 1,000 aspiring singers and actors by Greg Garrison, the producer-director of Dean Martin's TV series, just over a year ago.

They are veterans of the 1968 Bob Hope Vietnam Christmas tour and a year of nightclub and TV appearances.

The girls, between the ages of 18 and 22, answer to nicknames such as Pussycat, Misfit, Spooky and Bubbles, given to them by Garrison. Each is an individual: Misfit has a green belt in karate; Muchaluz has served as a hog caller on a California ranch.

Mayor Sam Yorty proclaimed it Physical Fitness Week in Los Angeles recently and designated The Goldiggers, who jog for health, to serve as his health dignitaries wherever they go.

George Kirby will appear in the same show with The Goldiggers on Saturday and Sunday of Fair Week.

Well known as an impressionist and comedian, Kirby is also a singer who sounds like Count Basie when he turns to the piano keyboard. When Kirby sings "Ramblin' Rose," he's the late Nat King Cole; when he clefs "Hello Dolly," he's Louis "Satchmo" Armstrong and when he voices "Everybody Loves Somebody," he's Dean Martin.

The versatile entertainer has made a name for himself on television and playing in nightclubs across the country.

Sinatra
Frank Sinatra, Jr., who will star Tuesday and Wednesday, has served perhaps the most rugged apprenticeship of any performer born to a famous parent.

Following an appearance on the Smothers Brothers Show in 1967 and after serving as Dean Martin's summer replacement last year, things began to break for him.

What gives Sinatra Jr. his greatest satisfaction these days lies simply in being called a "professional." A little known fact about him is his virtuosity on the piano; he hopes someday to build the piano into his act.

This year, television viewers have seen Sinatra, Jr., on the Hollywood Palace, Jackie Gleason Show, Dean Martin Show, Joey Bishop Show and on a special with his sister, Nancy.

Borge-Bryant
The team of Anita Bryant and Victor Borge on Thursday and Friday of Fair Week combines a New York State Fair veteran and first-timer.

Miss Bryant, who appeared at the Fair in 1961 and 1965, will be remembered for such hit records as "Till There Was You," "Paper Roses" and "My Little Corner of the World." During the past few years, she has been dubbed the number one female recording artist and was named the best vocalist of the year by the American Academy of Television Arts and Sciences.

The zany and hilarious Borge is most often associated with a full dress suit, piano and concert hall on one hand and the antics of one of the stage's funniest comedians on the other.

Trained as a concert pianist, Borge has the unique ability to make his audience laugh and sit in awe of his pianistic brilliance at the same time.

Country and Western
Bill Anderson who heads the Fair's country and western line-up for Labor Day is currently riding on the top of the record charts with "But You Know I Love You."

In ten years, he has risen from a disc jockey in a small radio station in Georgia to a Decca recording artist, Grand Ole Opry star, TV and radio personality.

Born on a Missouri farm, LeRoy VanDyke is a newspaper reporter who wanted to be an auctioneer and wound up becoming one of America's top country music entertainers. He did not explode into stardom overnight. He stair-stepped from talent contest wins to the Arthur Godfrey television show, to Red Foley's nationally televised Jubilee USA and was recently the first country star to perform in the Playboy Club.

Not only has the Missouri college graduate proven himself on record ("Walk on By," "The Auctioneer," "Louisville") but turned in a fine acting performance as the lead in the color musical, "What Am I Bid?"

State Employee Retires After 33 Years

Mrs. Millie Beatty Robinson was given a retirement luncheon recently by her friends and co-workers in the Poughkeepsie District of the State Department of Transportation at the Edison Motor Inn on Route 5, in honor of her completion of more than 33 years of State service.

The speaker was John D. Manning, assistant district engineer of the Poughkeepsie District Office. M. N. Sinacori, district engineer, sent a congratulatory letter. C. B. Therrien, finance officer of the District was toastmaster and conveyed messages of congratulations and best wishes from James McCallum of the Budget Division and John J. Kennedy of the Finance Division of the Albany Office of the Department.

Mrs. Robinson was given a money tree of five and 10 dollar bills, a yellow corsage, and a plaque by the president of the Civil Service Association. Her daughter, Cornelia, gave her a gold watch. There were representatives from all of the seven counties which comprise the Poughkeepsie District.

On November 16, 1935, Mrs. Robinson entered State Service as a temporary typist in the Department of Taxation and Finance in Albany. In February of 1936 she accepted a permanent appointment in the Education Department.

Not long afterward she transferred back to the Tax Department, and in April of 1937 transferred to the State Health Department, Kingston Office, where she remained until this office was taken over by the County of Ulster in January 1947. During this interim she served under Dr. Hollis S. Ingraham, now Commissioner of Health in Albany; Dr. Berwyn Mattison who later became Commissioner of Health of the State of Pennsylvania; and Dr. George James Who became Head of the Health Department of New York City. She had been the Senior Clerk supervising clerical personnel for four years at the time she left Kingston. In 1947 she transferred to the State Department of Public Works in Poughkeepsie, now the Transportation Department. She will retire on August 27.

Through the Civil Service System, she advanced from typist to principal account clerk which she has held since in 1957. She was honored in 1957 by being the only woman to be selected among a class of 17 employees of the Poughkeepsie District of Public Works for an in-training course in Administrative Supervision. Shortly after this she passed the Head Account Clerk's Examination and was offered the title in the Utica Office. Not wishing to move, she turned down the offer.

She became a member of the State Civil Service Association in 1936 and has held at various times the elected offices of secretary, delegate and member of the executive committee. She was nominated for president in 1966 but was defeated by a small margin by the incumbent president. She has been appointed and served on the grievance, membership and other committees; and chaired the nominating and election committees. At present she is serving as chairman of the Auditing Committee, a position she has held for many years. This is one of the larger and more active chapters in this section, having a membership of more than 90. She has also been an associate member of the New York State Association of Highway Engineers for many years.

The early education of Mrs. Robinson was in a one-room school in the Town of Marbletown. In 1928 she was graduated with honors from Kingston High School, receiving one of the old type Classical College Entrance Diplomas, good for life. The following year she was graduated from Spencer's Business School with a Secretarial Diploma, including accounting and business law. It was while in Spencer's that the Remington Speed Certificate was presented to her.

In 1936, she entered the night division of the Albany School of Accounting where she furthered her accounting and specialized in Income Tax Courses. The following year she attended the State Teacher's College in Albany in the night division in the field of sociology. Later she took extension work from Drew University and as recently as 1969 completed the Ulster County History Work Shop from UCCS.

While living in Stone Ridge, she joined the Grange and served on many committees and progressed through several of the officer's chairs. She is now a silver star member, lacking five years for her 50 year certificate. In 1944 she was approached to assist in organizing the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Stone Ridge Volunteer Fireman's Association, being elected the first president, and then for a second term. She gave up this work when she moved to New Paltz when her husband returned to America from British Military duty in 1948. She joined the Stone Ridge Reformed Church, later transferring to New Paltz.

In 1940 she became treasurer of the Stone Ridge School, a position which her father, Nathan Beatty and her uncle, Jason Beatty, had held in that order from 1925 until 1940. She was asked to run for election the following year, but declined.

Millie Beatty Robinson was born in Stone Ridge Heights in 1909, later moving to the Village of Stone Ridge. In 1945 she married Wilfred Robinson of Yorkshire, England, a British military careerist. They had one daughter, Cornelia, born in 1946 who resides with Mrs. Robinson in New Paltz. Mr. Robinson died in 1955.

She is looking forward to a long, busy and happy retirement, with time to devote to her hobby which is in historical and genealogical fields. She is at present working on a book dealing with Ulster County and on her papers for acceptance to the Board of Certification of Genealogist in Washington, D. C. She has done considerable research for historical societies and is a member of Colonial Dames of the State of Vermont and other historical societies.

DuBois is Woodstock Champ

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Sports Editor

WOODSTOCK — When Ray DuBois plays 36 holes without a birdie at Woodstock Country Club, it's a bit of a surprise.

When Ray picked up the 1969 club championship by a three-stroke margin over two players Sunday, it surprised nobody.

"It was tough going out there," said the IBM executive after carding a 36-hole total of 78-77-155 to edge Alex Sharpe, Jr. and Jay Van Wagenen by three shots.

Sharpe, who was awarded First Flight honors posted 81-77-158 and Van Wagenen first round leader with 76, tacked on a closing 82 for his 158.

Van Wagenen earned the runnerup trophy in the Championship Flight and second place in the First Flight went to Arnold Broggi with 80-82-162.

It was the third major victory of the season for the straight DuBois, who was once a club finalist against Bill Van Aken when the title was contested at match play. Earlier this season he won the men's Seniors and also the Member-Guest championship. He has long been regarded as one of the club's top pressure players.

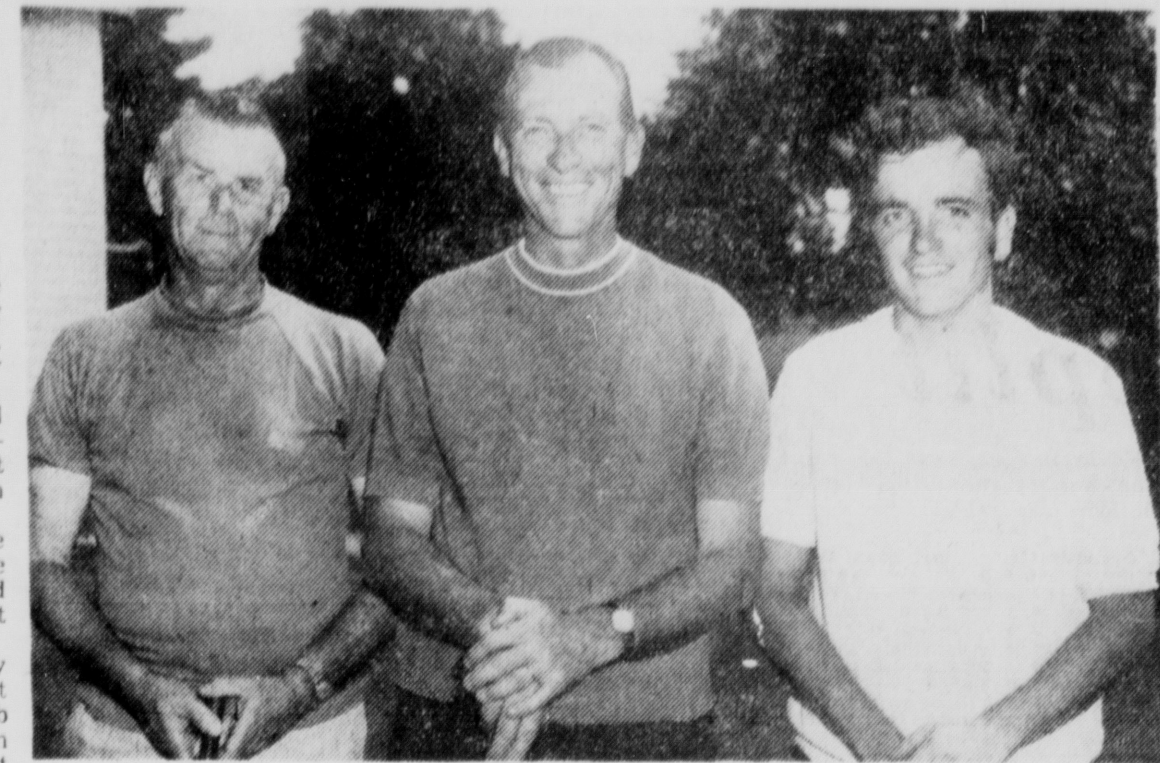

DuBois caught up with Jay Van Wagenen with a 38 on the front nine Sunday, when Jay carded 40. Andrew Horvath, one stroke off the pace with 77 Saturday, soared to a 42. That left DuBois and Van Wagenen tied at 116 going in. Sharpe, with a first round 81, made a pass at the leaders with an out going 37 but fell back to 40 coming in.

Van Wagenen's chances were badly jolted when he slammed his drive out of bounds and wound up with a triple-bogey 7 on the treacherous par four No. 11 hole.

DuBois' steady stream of pars and on occasional bogey gradually outdistanced his pursuers.

"My only really bad hole was No. 5 where I hit the ditch and needed seven to get in," said the new champion. "The greens were a little slick but not too bad. It was just tough going out there." The scores supported DuBois' observation. Dick Hajec and Donald Beckett tied for Second Flight with a pair of 82s. They will play an 18-hole round to decide the winner.

THE BIG THREE — Three low gross shooters in the Woodstock Country Club's championship tourney (L-R) Alex Sharpe Jr., first flight winner; Ray DuBois, new champion; and Jay Van Wagenen, runnerup in championship flight. (Freeman photos by Kruh).

Robert Brown shot a pair of 88s to win the Third Flight with 178. Harold Dungey was second at 96-94-190. Noel France led the Fourth Flight with 93-97-190. Joe Smithline was runnerup at 102-98-200.

Orient Llers Real Sharp

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (UPI) — If today's kids are any indication of what tomorrow's land and two years after Santa Clara's Chuck Carbis led grown-ups will be like, the United States may be losing its baseball supremacy to the Far East.

For the past three years, teams from the Orient have won the Little League World Series here.

Taipei, Republic of China Taiwan, won the 23rd annual series Saturday by defeating Santa Clara, Calif., 5-0, in a display of team discipline and unity which surprised baseball veterans among a crowd estimated at more than 25,000. Japanese teams triumphed in 1967 and 1968.

Stuhler, Woodard Win Girls Junior

KINGSTON — Sara Jane Stuhler, 16-year-old New York State Junior Girls champion, added the Northeastern District crown to her list when she topped a field of five opponents at Wiltwyck Country Club.

Miss Stuhler, daughter of the well known Antlers (Amsterdam) professional, Frank Stuhler, carded 44-40-84 to edge Nancy Kollin of Wiltwyck by three strokes.

Miss Kollin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Werner Kollin of Lake Katrine, matched Miss Stuhler's 44 on the front nine but fell three strokes back after the turn for a 44-43-87.

Debbie Woodard of Wiltwyck captured the 9-hole division with a 59-23-36 under the Calloway handicap system. She finished a stroke ahead of Sarah Baxter. Miss Woodard is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Woodard of Hurley.

Receives News Trophy

Miss Stuhler, who won the New York State title a few weeks ago, received The Knickerbocker News Trophy which was presented by Ben Danforth, golf editor of the paper. Ann Sawdowski, 17, of Mechanicville, runnerup to Miss Stuhler in the state championships, placed third with 45-45-90.

One of the tournament visitors was Mary Beth Duntz of Columbia Country Club, the 1969 champion. Miss Duntz is now No. 1 player and team captain for the women's varsity at the University of North Carolina.

The special nine-hole division was established for those junior players who did not have an established 18-hole handicap. Gross and net prizes were awarded in both the 18 and nine hole divisions.

Lorri Stuhler, sister of this year's winner, attended the tournament in her capacity as Northeastern Golf Association junior tourney chairman. The results:

Charlie Janes triggered the Merchants rally with a leadoff single in the seventh. Don Freese forced him at second but Ed Watzka followed with a single and Jerry Corrado doubled for two runs. A single by George Geanuleas and Jack Watzka's double accounted for the other two runs.

Corrado and Jack Watzka each had single-double combinations for the Merchants.

KINGSTON — Kingston Merchants scored 5 runs on three singles and two errors in the bottom of the fifth to top the Glasco A.C. 6-3 in city baseball action last night at Dietz Stadium.

Rick Sorenson pitched a fine four hit game working his way out of trouble on two different occasions. He walked four and struck out eight. Tom Gallo took the loss for Glasco, but it again wasn't due to his pitching. Gallo fanned seven and walked five over six innings.

Tom Ingarr was the only player to achieve two hits both singles.

Kitty Fowler Wins, Zeeks Take Crown

KINGSTON — Two championships were decided in the blistering heat Sunday at Forsyth Park as Kitty Fowler successfully defended her women's singles title by downing Ruth Goldin, Ellenville, 6-8, 6-3, 6-4 and the Zeek brothers, Pete and Bill won the men's doubles crown with a 6-1, 6-1 win over Dick Smith and Dick Little in the Ulster County Tennis Tournament.

The Zeek brothers also scored wins in the men's singles division Sunday and will face each other for that title tonight, 5:30, at Forsyth. Pete is the defending champion.

In a quarter-finals mixed doubles match, Mary Ann Fowler and Jim Boyd downed Arun Bajaj and David Nelson, 6-8, 6-3, 6-3. The semi-final round of the mixed doubles will be played Tuesday night and the finals will be played Wednesday. Both matches will start at 5:30.

The Fowler-Goldin contest found the two top seeds battling each other in the hot sun as the tempo of the sets matched the heat of the day. Ruth Goldin was in charge most of the way in the first set, leading 5-1 at one point. Kitty regained her composure after this early onslaught by her upset-minded opponent, carrying the match to 6-8.

In the second set, the defending champ was in complete control, winning 6-3.

The third and deciding set was a battle-royal that was much like the first, but with one change. Kitty Fowler jumped out to 5-1 margin and found herself struggling to save a late rally from Mrs. Goldin, scoring the winning point at 3-4 in the set.

Smith and Little, seeded second in the men's doubles, advanced to meet the Zeeks in the final round via the default route over Bill Carr and Marshall Lipton, but that was as far as they got as Pete and Bill took the match, 6-1, 6-1.

The score might indicate that this was an easy match for the champs, but such was not the case as both teams made very few mistakes and the points scored were earned all the way. Unreturnable serves and fine net play was the key to victory for the outstanding brothers.

Pete Zeek had the first match of the day in men's singles, downing Little, the number four seed in successive sets, 6-1, 6-2. The defending champ was in control all the way as Little kept the pressure on but could not come with Zeek's smashers.

Bill Zeek, with the pressure on him to get a shot at his brother in the finals, was hard-pressed in his victory over Dick Smith. Smith extended the younger of the brother's act to 6-4, 6-4 and was at match point both times.

Smith was seeded third for the tourney.

All of the titles will be decided this week in the Ulster County tourney.

Shaw Scrambles To AVCO Golf Title

SUTTON, Mass. (UPI)—An Arnold Palmer "charge" used by Young Mr. Shaw, whose apple-shaped and apple-colored cheeks belie his 26 years, may be going into politics. So the professional tourists have substituted what is best described as the Tom Shaw scramble.

The win, he told television commentator Palmer, left him 51 tournament victories behind the ailing Arnold.

"I'm not going to be known for my strong finishes after a while," the personable and popular Shaw quipped after his five-over windup round of 77 gave him a 72-hole total of 280. Runnerup Bob Stanton of Sydney, Australia, closed with a 71 for a 281 total worth $17,100 after trailing by a record seven strokes at the end of 54 holes.

One entry who didn't fare so well in the prize distribution was the veteran Gary Player, the runnerup in the PGA the week before and tagged by most as the AVCO favorite.

Player, apparently still troubled by the demonstrations that plagued him in the PGA, took home $214.29 as his reward for finishing 58th place, 14 strokes off the pace.

Shaw is slated for an exhibition in Port Judith, R.I., with fellow pro Joe Carr on Monday and will play in the Greater Hartford Open next weekend. So will Stanton.

Smith and Lutz were dethroned as doubles champions, losing in the third round to the unseeded Chileans Jaime Fillol and Patricio Cornejo.

Lutz, the fourth seed, had beaten Ashe and Smith had defeated Charlie Pasarell, a fourth member of the U.S. Davis Cup team, in marathon five-set semifinal matches Saturday.

Smith called it "my biggest tournament win." And that it was, for it gave him a $4,000 first prize and almost guaranteed him a singles spot in the Davis Cup defense next month.

Mets Score Over Dodgers

By United Press International

All Ron Swoboda wants is to be wanted. The good-natured strongman of the New York Mets, who had been benched by manager Gil Hodges and besieged by boos from the fun-loving fans earlier in the season, continued his role as the hero Sunday by slamming a three-run double in the seventh inning to lead the Mets to a 7-4 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

In other National League games Chicago split with Houston, winning the first game, 10-9, before dropping the nightcap, 3-2. San Francisco topped Montreal, 6-4. Atlanta defeated St. Louis, 4-1. Pittsburgh drubbed Cincinnati, 9-4 and Philadelphia downed San Diego, 6-4.

Oakland Sweeps Two In the American League Chicago defeated Boston, 3-1. Minnesota blanked New York, 1-0. Washington beat Kansas City, 10-3. California turned back Detroit, 5-2. Cleveland edged Seattle, 6-5, and Oakland swept a doubleheader from Baltimore, 9-0 and 9-8 in 18 innings.

The Mets were trailing 4-3 when singles by Cleon Jones, Art Shamsky and Ken Boswell loaded the bases and set the stage for Swoboda's game-winning hit.

Ernie Banks hit two home runs, the second a two-run blast in the eighth inning, to lead the Cubs to their opening game victory. Jim Wynn's two home runs earlier in the game helped the Astros to an 8-3 lead after six innings.

In the second game Ken Johnson walked Doug Rader with the bases loaded to give the Astros a split of the doubleheader and reduced the Cubs lead over the Mets in the Eastern Division race to five games.

The Giants took over first place in the Western Division as Ron Hunt's double drove in the deciding run in the ninth inning. Bobby Bonds hit his 25th homer and knocked in three runs and Willie McCovey whacked his 39th homer of the season. Juan Marchal scattered 10 hits to win his 15th game of the year.

U.S. Golfers Take Walker

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—The United States has claimed the coveted Walker Cup again—for the 20th time in 22 tries but only against the British after one of the toughest fights in the history of the biennial competition.

Although the U.S. now has a record of 20 victories, one loss and a tie with the British in this international showcase of amateur golf, it took five stirring comebacks by the Americans to turn back the British for a 10-8 victory.

Nifty Nelse Rated Mid-Summer Pick

MONTICELLO, N.Y. — Nifty Nelse, Johnnie Chapman in command, took another leg in Monticello's Mid-Summer pick to make himself the top ranking entry in the finals, which will carry an estimated purse of $27,500, when they are conducted next weekend at the Sullivan County oval.

The mid-summer championships are run in three legs of which Saturday's was the third, and each leg is worth $9,000. Nifty Nelse, a 7-year-old gelding by Diller Hanover Kitty Calhoun, captured the first leg on August 9th and placed in the second leg last Saturday. His respective times were 2:02.4 and 2:02.1.

Nifty Nelse's victory in 2:02.3 was all the more remarkable because just before the scheduled post of 10:11 p.m., he lost the shoe on the right foot. The clock ticked on while the blacksmith tried to get things right, and the race did not get off until 10:24 p.m. Then Nifty Nelse promptly lost the offending shoe again before the field made it half-way to the first turn.

Nifty Nelse achieved his victory in a driving brush past four horses down the stretch championship. After that qualification, ranking is determined by the purse money won in the combined effort of two or more legs.

The ranking, and the amount of money won by each entry in the finals to be run Saturday, Aug. 30, is as follows: Nifty Nelse, $10,000; Mister Duke, $4,000; Tyros Hanover, $4,000; Orbits N., $2,600; Clandebye, $2,600; Cash Battle, $2,640; Niagara Ace, $1,280; and the Sunday Man $1,040. Also eligible are Drummond Hanover and Panther Hanover with earnings of $400 each.

The daily double Saturday evening was a 7 and 1 combination worth $17.80. As the result of an obvious pairing of two favorites, in the first race it was Winsome Lad, an 8-year-old gelding driven by Kenneth McNutt, who was the victor. The second race was taken by Sarnia Rose, a 7-year-old mare, reined by Gilles Lachance. For Winsome Lad it was his first victory of 1959, but otherwise neither horse established any sort of new self record.

The afternoon daily double of the Mighty M's fifth dual meet of the year went up the scale one point on the latter half.

Richard Ricci Finishes First

Rich Ricci of Rosendale, won his first modified feature at the Orange County Fair Grounds Speedway holding off Will Cagle and Jackie Evans. Ricci started in 11th position in the 24 car field and grabbed the lead in the fourth lap and hung on to it for the remainder of the race. Cagle and Evans tried on many occasions to get by the youthful winner but he proved to be a little bit smarter than they thought he was. This was the first win recorded by Ricci since he started racing here ten years ago when he was 19 years old.

Fred DeGroodt of Somerville, New Jersey won his first feature of the 69 season with a victory in the Limited Sportsman class.

At Wiltwyck Country Club

Kolln, Blakely Score

It will be the classic confrontation of youth against experience in the semi-final round of the Wiltwyck Country Club men's championships next weekend.

Two scholastic stars — Dave Blakely of Ulster Community College and Werner Kolln, ex-Kingston High school star — joined a pair of grizzled veterans, Harvey Bostic and Bill Van Aken in the Round of Four in opening action over the weekend.

Blakely eliminated W. James Penrose, 4 and 3, in the opening round and followed with a convincing 5 and 4 triumph over Bill Kaufman, a former champion and redoubtable match game player.

Kolln, who is headed for Albany State College, made it to the semi-finals with a first round 9 and 8 triumph over Mark Brown and a 1 up win over his KHS teammate Joe Bostic in 19 holes.

Harvey Bostic turned back two opponents by identical 3 and 2 scores. He eliminated Raymond Nelson in the first round and collegian Sam Spiegel in second round action.

Bill Van Aken, who won his last Wiltwyck title in 1950 at the old course, played strong golf to oust Frank Weller, 5 and 4, and then beat Brian Smith, 4 and 3.

Smith Upsets Randall
Smith turned up as the Giant Killer of the tournament by up setting perennial champion.

Haywood Signs With Denver

DENVER (AP) — For Spencer Haywood, the 6-foot-4 dynamo who starred for the University of Detroit and the U.S. Olympic team, there was virtually no choice in turning professional.

"I had overwhelming family responsibilities," said Haywood after signing with the American Basketball Association Denver Rockets despite his two remaining years of college eligibility. "I have a mother and nine children to support. I just had to do it."

Elks Top Vols 9-8, In BRL

The Elks Club held off a last inning rally by the Volunteer Firemen in the Babe Ruth League to win 9-8.

Don Smith had the big hit for the Elks, a triple, but Joe Milano had a double and single for two runs batted-in to lead the Elks hitting. Jim Stote had

Jets Set Tonight At Oakland

By United Press International
The football seers who envision tonight's exhibition game between the Oakland Raiders and the New York Jets as a preview of the American Football League title game better check first with Len Dawson of the Kansas City Chiefs.

Dawson, the 34-year-old quarterback of the Chiefs, fired four touchdown passes Saturday night as Kansas City trounced the Los Angeles Rams, 42-14, in an inter-league game.

The victory was the fourth straight in pre-season play for the Chiefs, and it was the first time they had beaten the Rams in three tries.

Dawson hit Frank Pitts' tie game, 7-7, in the first quarter and then threw TD passes of 33 yards to Gloster Richardson, eight yards to Mike Garrett and 10 yards to Robert Holmes.

Larry Smith bolted over from the one and Jack Snow caught a 37-yard TD pass from Roman Gabriel for the Rams' only scores.

In other games played Saturday night Dallas beat Green Bay, 31-13. Denver upset San Francisco, 19-15. Pittsburgh outscored New Orleans, 34-24. Cleveland tied San Diego, 19-19. Minnesota trounced St. Louis, 41-13. Washington topped Atlanta, 24-7 and Cincinnati defeated Miami, 28-21.

Dear Abby

Why 'Plan' Family?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
(© 1969 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: Since God alone can create life, and since God alone knows what tomorrow brings, He alone is truly qualified as a "Family Planner."

How did a lovely brilliant girl like you ever get taken in by Planned Parenthood?

A LONG TIME ADMIRER

DEAR ADMIRER: I read the figures on population explosion, and saw pictures of thousands of starving children born of parents who did not want them and could not feed them. I then concluded that a just God could not possibly have given life to innocent children only to doom them to death by starvation in their infancy.

DEAR ABBY: When I have my son, his wife and their children to my home for dinner, I put newspapers under the baby's high chair. My son informs me that his wife will not allow him to do that at home. She claims that it is all right when feeding animals, but not children!

I certainly would never put my grandchild in the same class with animals, I am only trying to protect my dining room rug.

Abby, I have used newspapers under high chairs with all my own children, and five grand children, and I never had a complaint before. I would like your opinion. Am I being stupid and insensitive? Or is my daughter-in-law out of line?

I, M. CURIOUS IN DEL.

DEAR CURIOUS: I would have to say that your daughter-in-law is out of line. And you may put THIS under the baby's high chair.

DEAR ABBY: Before I met my husband-to-be, the girl who introduced us said, "You'll never want to marry this guy because his name is—"

I said, "Don't worry, I have no intentions of marrying him."

Famous last words!

Well, you guessed it, I did marry him and I have had five years of ridicule, snickers and crank telephone calls because of our name, but I have learned to take it because I love my husband very much.

However, we now have two children (2 and 4) and I keep dreading the thought of what they will have to face because of their name. Regardless of what my husband says, he is still sensitive about it because of the jeering he had to endure as a youngster.

I have suggested several times that we change just one letter of our name, legally, which will give it an entirely different meaning. This I want to do for the sake of our children.

My husband says that "—" has been his family's name for as many generations as he can go back and he is proud of it and will not change it. What do you think, Abby? Is family pride worth years of ridicule for our children?

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

HOW FAR? (Q.) Is it proper for a boy to ask a girl how far she will go with him? I've been asked this by several boys, and I'm not sure if the question was an insult or a compliment.

One of my brother's boy friends came over to our house twice. He did not try anything, but he did ask that question. I'm almost positive he did it out of respect.

I will be 14 in September, and he is 15.—Complimented or Insulted in Pennsylvania.

(A.) Whether it is a compliment or an insult is not important. What is important is that a boy who will ask you how far you will go before he even asks you for a date has something in mind besides a wholesome boy-girl friendship. Beware!

UNADORNED: (Q.) We have a cabin right by the river. All we do is swim. My boy friend is coming up the first week in September. What worries me is that he has never seen me without eyeliner, and I can't wear it in the water. It runs.

I look terrible without it. Is there one that will stay on in swimming? Don't tell me to keep my head out of the water. It's no fun to swim that way.—A Reader.

(A.) Most eyeliners do run in water. So just swim without any.

If you wish, keep yours with your towel, and put it on as soon as you come out of the water. You could also have your lashes dyed a darker shade before your boyfriend arrives.

It could turn out that he will like your eyes better natural than made up. Most boys do.

NEW YORK (UPI)—President Richard M. Nixon served an apprenticeship for his present job when he was vice president but there is no guarantee future American presidents will know anything at all about running the most complicated nation on earth when they take office.

The British spend years training the heir to a throne whose powers have mostly disappeared into history. But candidates for the world's most important elective post do not have to have any specific preparation for the job nor do they have to submit to any tests of ability.

The other day, Theodore H. White, author of the book, "The Making of the President: 1968," and the 90-minute documentary of the same title which CBS-TV is broadcasting Sept. 9, considered the idea of courses for the ambitious politicians in subjects that might be helpful in the White House.

"I don't really think we need an academy for presidential hopefuls," he said. "But some day it might be a good idea to have a board of examiners who would pass on candidates."

White spoke as the historian of the presidential campaigns of 1960, 1964 and 1968 and perhaps the closest professional observer of those races. Few Americans have more inside knowledge of the curious processes by which the nation arrives—for good or ill—at its chief executive.

Although he did not include it in the television documentary, White is in favor of dropping the electoral college and electing a president by direct, popular vote.

White got permission to film in the secret control centers of the Nixon headquarters at the Miami Convention and of

Hurley Irish Lass '70 County Queen

By ALBERT J. CAWAIN

SAUGERTIES
The flashing Irish smile of 20-year-old Ruth H. McGeeney of Hurley and her highly emotional rock vocal presentation Saturday night impressed both the Miss Ulster County Pageant judges and the 13 other contestants in the competition to choose a county queen for 1970.

The five feet, seven redhead was chosen Miss Ulster County of 1970 and earlier was named Miss Congeniality by a vote of the other contestants.

UCCC Graduate
The Ulster County Community College graduate (June 1969) is a daughter of Lucie E. and John V. McGeeney. Prior to her attendance at UCCC, she graduated from Kingston High School in 1966. Her rendition of "House of the Rising Sun" and accompaniment on the guitar received tremendous audience reaction.

The new county queen was crowned by Diana Jean Knight of West Hurley, the titleholder for 1969.

First runner-up was Lynn Merck, 21, of Woodstock, who offered a medley of selections on the flute for her talent presentation. The tall vivacious brunette, a SUNY of New Paltz graduate, also was first runner-up in last year's pageant.

Another Woodstock girl, Vicki Williams, 22, second runner-up, won an armful of trophies. In addition to her runner-up cup, she also received loving cups for the swimsuit competition and talent in the preliminary judging. She won the talent competition on her vocal offering of a classical selection.

Pamela Davis Suenram, Miss Ulster County of 1966 and a member of the Pageant Committee presented the Miss Congeniality trophy to Miss McGeeney.

Albert V. Conte, chairman of Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce, pageant sponsors, made the trophy presentation to Miss Merck, and Harry Thayer of WGHQ presented the silver loving cup to Miss Williams. The radio station sponsored the scholarship for the second runner-up. Harry Kaprelian of Charles Ramsey Corp. made the other presentation to Miss Williams. The Ramsey Corp. also sponsored a large portion of the scholarship fund.

Other Finalists
The other two finalists were Gloria Rockhill, 18, of Kingston, who presented a sewing and fashion design exhibition, Naomi Velasco, 17, of Saugerties, who offered a Tahitian dance.

The new Miss Ulster County will compete in the Miss New York State Pageant in July, 1970.

The other contestants were Marsha Bright, Corinne Feinberg, Carolyn Rich, Elizabeth Osc, Nancy Haener, Kathryn Hancock, Ann Van Alst, Carol Knight and Barbara Narel. The appearance is in order of their appearance in the talent presentation.

Joseph Bosco Jr. produced the pageant show entitled Come Waltz With Me. Harriet Hansen, Wendy Ward director for Montgomery Ward Metro District, was mistress of ceremonies and Sam Tesoriero served as master of ceremonies.

The music was by David Keehn and the Pageant Orchestra with Mary Maynard, accompanist. The Leofooters Dance Club presented the opening specialty.

Mylum Miker Turner, a runner-up in the 1968 pageant, offered a vocal rendition of Ebb Tide and Girl From Ipanema during the entertainment portion of the program. Also entertaining was singer Bobby Farris, who offered I've Got to Be Me.

A special awards breakfast for the contestants, parents, chaperones and pageant staff was held Sunday morning at the Flamingo.

Winners

The three winners of the 1970 edition of Miss Ulster County Pageant held Saturday night at Saugerties, smile through tears of joy, moments after the coronation of the 20-year-old Hurley queen, Ruth H. McGeeney, (center). The five foot seven inch redhead will represent Ulster County in the Miss New York State Pageant in July 1970. With her are Lynn Merck (R) 21, of Woodstock, first runner-up and Vicki Williams, 22, also of Woodstock, second runner-up and winner of both the talent and swimsuit competitions in the preliminary judging. The other two finalists were Gloria Rockhill, 18, of Kingston and Naomi Velasco, 17, of Saugerties. The crowning was by Diana Jean Knight of West Hurley, the 1969 titleholder. The new queen is a June graduate of Kingston High School. She is employed at the Western Union office, 237 Fair Street, Kingston. (Official Pageant Photo by Jeff Buchle)

Rosendale First at the Scene

By SHANE CROSBY

SAUGERTIES
A warehouse fire at the corner of Main and Market Streets in this village Saturday injured one fireman and destroyed the village's collection of Christmas lights.

Harry Quick of the Rosendale Active Hose Company No. 1, the first unit at the fire, was injured and treated at Benedictine Hospital for first and second degree burns of the face and chest.

The fire broke out in the warehouse at 6 p.m. as the Rosendale unit was passing the center of the village returning from a parade in Hudson. Police flagged the fire truck down and sent it to the blaze before local units responded.

Included in the list of items lost in the blaze was the village equipment returned to their sta-
